of 14-year-old Robert Franks and ninety-nine years' imprisonment for kidnaping the boy were meted out today to Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb by Judge John R.

saved them from the noose. No minor has ever been sentenced to said Judge Caverly. He then ac-

WHEN HIT BY AUTOA horse, owned by John G. Conroy, a milk dealer of 593 East Merrimack street, was so painfully injured in a collision with an automobile truck at Chapel and Elm streets at 2:15 o'clock this morning that Harlan Baker, representing the Lowell humane society, brought his suffering to an end by shooting.
The horse, attached to a milk wagon, was standing in Chapel street, when a Dodge truck, owned by Benjamin Frank of 117 Howard street, and operated by Constantine Stager of 238 Chelmsford street, skidded and struck, first the wagon, and then the horse. A deep wound was inflicted in the animal's left shoulder and he was weakened considerably through loss of blood when the humane society official arrived on the scene. As there appeared to be no hope of the horse's recovery, Mr.
Baker sent a bullet through his brain.
The remains were removed to the plant of the Lowell Rendering Co. in South Lowell.
The truck and milk wagon suffered slight damages. The street was cleared with milk bottles.TRUCK DEMOLISHES FIRE ALARM BOXFire alarm bells throughout the city tolled one stroke at 11:10 this morning in honor of the memory of Alarm Box 25, at Merrimack and Prescott streets, which ended its career exactly at that moment.
The sudden ending of Box 25's career was caused by a motor truck, which skidded when passing by and struck the iron pole on which the box was mounted, breaking it into two pieces. As the pole fell, wires which were carried in its hollow interior were short-circuited and caused the alarm bells to sound one stroke.
The truck was owned by A. Towle & Company of Boston and operated by Louis Fernillo of Dorchester.

Major Dana Palmer, general chair-

the attendance of patriotic citizens,

MET IN MIDDLESEX HALL

Business and Professional
Women's Club Holds
Opening Fall Meeting

The Business and Professional Women of Lowell met last evening in Middlesex hall for the first session of the fall-winter season with a large number of members present. Following a bountiful dinner business was transacted, the vice president, Dr. Laura B. Deane, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Rosa Jordan Hartford, who is in New York. Miss Jessie M. Fitzgerald, corresponding secretary, in the absence of Miss Eleanor Rivet, read the minutes of the last meeting.

During and previous to the dinner the Alpha Ladies' Trio, Mildred Upton, director, rendered numerous selections. Mrs. F. L. Roberts, soloist of the evening, gave several vocal numbers, including "Remember the Rose," a semi-popular composition, "I Toll and I Spin," an Irish sketch, and "Little Rosebud Joy," a fantastic negro song, all of which were enthusiastically received by the members.

Mr. Lewis B. MacBryne, recently returned from across, gave a talk on conditions in Europe in 1924, among which was a description of the battlefields of Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods, the latter now being American territory, having been recently purchased by the American government. Speaking of the social and commercial relations now existing, Mr. MacBryne said in part:

"There is something different about Europe since the war. And yet there is a certain comradeship existing today between Europe and America, especially between America and England which did not exist before. England has gone back to her playing now that the war was ended. While France has set about to rebuild her country. The English know everything that is new and yet they stand by the old-fashioned modes they learned. Through France towns have sprung up where, after the war, only ruin and desolation ruled. But for the bright red roofs of the pretty cottages one would believe the villages were always existent. The farms in this section of Europe are the loveliest I have seen. The Frenchman is gradually returning to the fields of his birth; he is tilling patiently, meanwhile getting ready for eventualities yet keeping quiet about it, and selling his goods to the tourist.

"The English are different. The support rendered those out of work encourages them to remain idle, while those who are fortunate enough to earn a little money are heavily burdened by taxation. Among the many beautiful places I visited while in England was the grave of the unknown dead in Westminster Abbey. There, paying silent tribute to the hero of the greatest conflict, are wreaths of the rarest blooms lying side by side with the butochans and dusts of the dead. There the Englishman worships and there tourists flock to pay homage.

"Germany is one of the most prosperous countries across. Everywhere everyone is spending money lavishly and for them we have no pity. Since Germany has loaned all the money she has since the war let her pay her debts; and if she cannot, since she is so versed in science, let her devise a means by which to pay.

"Europeans wished to know what our Defense day meant, whether or not we were preparing for war with Japan. They believe that to keep prepared is a wise plan; that everyone wants peace and that peace can only be secured by being prepared to uphold it.

Telling of his trip to Chateau Thierry and the Marne, Mr. MacBryne stated that his great wonderment was to find the roads to Belleau Woods entirely rebuilt. "There is just enough of the debris of war remaining to give evidence of the great battle," he said. "Nature has covered the scars of war with a new growth of trees and shrubbery, guarding as it were the battle-scarred trees standing as sentinels in the midst of the quiet region. And in the little village of Chateau Thierry is an outpost of American women who never returned from the war. Their work there is of a social kind and they are promoting the welfare of the community by interesting the people in scout work, in general health rules and general social service work. France is too old to be upset by war and new ideas, but France will fight to the end before she will allow German feet on French soil."

Miss Amy Baker of Lowell and New York then entertained with numerous readings, among which were "The Charm That Failed," "Concerning the

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity. Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppin, charcoal, drugs and various dietetic aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisulphate of Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisulphate of Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drugist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or three compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated, heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisulphate of Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the constipation of the Bisulphate of Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Adv. 17 KILLED IN STRIKE CLASH

HONOLULU, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Seventeen persons are dead at Hanaepepe, island of Kauai, as the result of a clash among strikers and workers on the McBryde plantations yesterday, according to word received today.

The death list reached seventeen when two Filipinos succumbed to injuries today.

One company of national guardsmen and two squads of machine gunners will be sent to the trouble zone immediately.

An unestimated number of strikers were wounded as they fled from the scene. The police are reported to have fired with wounded. The trouble started when the police attempted to rescue two plantations workers who had been kidnapped by strikers.

GEMS WORTH $250,000 STOLEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Jewelry valued at $250,000 was stolen from the home of J. S. Cosden, wealthy oil man and race horse owner, at Sandpoint, Long Island, on Monday night. It was announced today by detectives. Some of the gems belonged to Lord and Lady Mountbatten, who accompanied the Prince of Wales to this country and who were guests at the Cosden home.

Mrs. Richard Norton, another member of the prince's party, also lost some jewelry.

The robbery was committed by a sneak thief, who entered the rooms of Mrs. Cosden, Lady Mountbatten and Mrs. Norton while they were away Monday night, officials of the company said. Most of the jewels, they added, had been lost on bureau and dressing tables by the three women. Mrs. Cosden's loss was placed at about $50,000. Lord Mountbatten is a cousin of the Prince of Wales.

announcement to the citizens' committee and guests. Company C officers will open a formal recruiting station at Westford street armory on Friday, Sept. 12, National Defense day. The command is just five men short of the 50-man requirement that brings an infantry command in the Massachusetts national guard up to regulation status requirements.

The Westford street recruiting station will open on Friday, from 10 to 5 p. m. The enlistment campaign seeks only able-bodied, well built men of normal size, good health and fair education. The citizens' committee approves of the MacIntyre plan as one of the patriotic moves on the part of a worthy organization of men who are called upon first in time of war. Enlistments are desired for "full time" service—three years.

The National Guard
Major Estes explained in detail last evening the part that the national guard forces would take at the Auditorium outdoor and inside patriotic exercises. There will be the national salute; marching of all the American flags carried in the street parade; the ceremony of retreat with five buglers sounding the call; taps and a battery salute. Capt. Donald R. MacIntyre will command during the program of retreat. Capt. Molloy will have charge of the ceremonial trooping the colors, to be held within the Auditorium after the outdoor programs are concluded.

The general committee unanimously decided that only the national flag of the United States of America shall be displayed in the street parade. Fraternal, social and religious organizations may carry their insignia and emblems. The flag of no other nation but the "U. S. A." will be allowed to be hoisted over any section of the marching columns in Lowell on "National Defense Day."

More local fraternal organizations eager to participate in the Sept. 12th demonstrations of loyalty and patriotism, complements, reported the manufacturer, officers and committees, at last night's final business meeting of the Citizens' committee. All were cordially welcomed.

Lowell Aeris No. 223, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was represented by President Thomas F. Quinn, Vice President William Sheehan and Chaplain George M. Shields. President Quinn said the membership of the organization was 2887, and the organization plans to turn out a host of active members, who will parade in a body.

President Quinn got a fine applause of acknowledgment when he reported flourishing Lowell Aeris No. 223's auspicious program.

The city of Lowell's official "Defense Day Proclamation" was received from the mayor last night, and read by

Local Defense Day Program

Continued

Maj. Palmer. It is as follows:

"Defense Day Proclamation"

"In accordance with the expressed wish of the president of the United States, Friday, September 13th, has been set aside as a day for citizens to unite in public expression of national patriotism and loyalty to country.

"It is not proposed to display an arrogant, militaristic spirit, but rather the inherent qualities of American manhood, ready to defend at all cost national honor. It is proposed to stimulate and keep alive in the breast of every true American the responsibility of citizenship, to the end that our country may ever remain in the forefront in upholding the truest and best instinct of humanity—a beacon light in the progress of civilization.

"May I, therefore, urge my fellow-citizens to enlist for one day in such a service to their country. Co-operate generously of your time in making successful the plans of the Defense Day committee. Respond to their request and instructions. Let Lowell of today prove as she has in the past, that the fires of patriotism are alive in the hearts of her citizens, and that if need be national honor and integrity are placed above life itself in this day and generation."

Elaborate Decorations

City hall will be elaborately decorated with American flags and bunting of patriotic hues, on Friday, Maj. Palmer was informed by municipal officials. It was the sentiment of the Citizens' committee members in session last evening, that Lowell homes and business places should be decorated with the national colors as far as it can be done. An appeal was issued to citizens-at-large to publicly display the American flag on Sept. 12, if nothing more.

President James O'Sullivan of Division 1, A.O.H., assured the general committee that his fraternal brothers would turn out en masse and march in a body through the city streets in the position assigned to the parade line.

The parade is to be a monster affair of 68 units, the list of organizations to appear in the column including practically all representative institutions, comprising the best of the municipality's civic, fraternal, patriotic, religious and club life and pursuits.

Comrade Dudley Page led a delegation of G.A.R. comrades to last night's meeting, participating but little in the final discussions relative to Defense Day programs, but voting vigorously on all suggestions advanced for the successful promotion of Lowell's imposing "National Defense Day" demonstrations.

Lowell Rotary club, the Lions club, the South End club, the Advertising club, the Y.M.C.A. and numerous other boosters of the citizens' committee's programs, once more attested their "100 per cent." interest in the affair, promising also full representation in the street parade column.

Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen stated that between 300 and 400 Boy Scouts representing Lowell and numerous surrounding towns, would take part in policing the streets, aiding the regular police authorities to the best of their ability. They will also perform special police duties inside the Auditorium before, during and after the presentation of the Defense day program wind-up.

Enlistment Registration

Enlistment registrations at the big desk at "National Defense day" headquarters in the old Courier-Citizen building are coming in heavily, the average being about $300 per day now, Maj. Percy A. Wilson reported to the program-makers last evening. He explained once more the "one-day enlistment" idea and urged more enrollment today and tomorrow to make the list as large as possible. Lowell, he said, in event of the next war, would be called upon to furnish 3585 men by drafting.

Commander Harold Tivey, of American Legion post 118, North Billerica, reported that a full membership would probably not come to Lowell for the parade, but that a good many members were planning to come as an organization participant. The commander is working hard to get in touch with comrades all and is confident that he will lead a good-sized body of World War veterans from North Billerica precincts.

Capt. Wilson carried the new signs that will be carried on short poles by the different organized reserve detachments, in the Friday street parade. The lettering on the engineers' insignia will be blue and red—regulation U.S.A. colors. The artillery cards would be yellow-bordered, and so on down the designation route.

Spanish-American war veterans sent word that they would parade as one organization, Friday. The announcer received a cordial greeting.

The Y.M.C.A. membership plans to parade as a unit, the designation being Company A, 412th engineers, Organized Reserves. This is the mayor's command.

A popular veteran of the Spanish-

American war, Sergt. Frank Koltchik, of Lowell, was selected to lower the flag in front of Memorial Auditorium. The sergeant fought against Spain as a member of the First U. S. Infantry (regulars) and had a distinguished service record.

General Orders Read

The general orders for the patriotic Sept. 12 street demonstration parade, were issued today and appear elsewhere. A proof of the official orders was read at last night's meeting of the Citizens' committee by Secretary Walsh and unanimously approved. One thousand copies of the orders will be promptly printed and a copy mailed to each and every organization scheduled to appear in the column of march Friday evening.

One citizen from each participating organization in the parade line, will be chosen to the official staff of aids to Chief Marshal Maj. Colby T. Kittredge.

A newly-organized fraternal organization with a small but patriotic membership of 16—the Joan of Arc Circle—sent a representative to last night's rally and filled out the enrollment blanks. The commander of the new organization is First Lieut. Wilfred Arpin, who is very enthusiastic over the coming parade and the participation of the new Joan of Arc society of youthful cadets. Lieut. Arpin is to start a membership campaign to increase the organization's membership right away.

James J. McManis was nominated and chosen as an aide on the staff of the chief marshal to represent the divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The committee has decided that while the school children of the city will be invited to the Memorial Auditorium before the holding of the patriotic and military ceremonies outside the building, the general public will not be allowed to enter until after the parade is concluded and all outdoor observance functions performed.

Secretary Ralph E. Smith of Lowell

Command, British Great War Veterans of America, Inc., announced this morning that all officers and members of the organization would parade in the "National Defense Day" column.

All British and Canadian veterans and their friends have been invited to march with the command and all will be welcomed. The British veterans will meet at the Free church on Middlesex street, Friday night, at 6.30 o'clock. No uniforms will be worn.

Officers Implicated in Attempt to Invent Anti-Catholic Propaganda

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 10.—Members of the executive committee of the national conference of Catholic charities meeting here, called on Mayor Carver yesterday and charged that a police captain and two patrolmen whom they alleged are members of the Ku Klux Klan, were implicated in an attempt to invent anti-Catholic propagandist material at the Coliseum where the conference sessions are held.

DEPUTY BOY SCOUT MASTERS NAMED

Lowell council, Boy Scouts of America, met last evening in the council rooms in Kearney square. The election of deputy scout commissioners took place. Those selected for the coming year were as follows: Herman Brase, of the State Normal school, Cecil D. Chase and William J. Sabre. Mr. Brase will supervise the educational programs and activities of the scouts.

Charles W. Barton, formerly connected with the Lowell Boys' club, was named as field scout executive to assist Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen.

John Fairburn was appointed as assistant scout master for Troop 1, Chelmsford. Mr. Fairburn has been prominently identified during the past seven years in Boy Scout and boys' church work in England.

The report of the council's delegate, Royal E. White, on the community chest, was read and accepted.

Scout Executive Mellen requests that all scouts report in uniform at 6 o'clock Friday evening at the Memorial Auditorium in preparation for the "Defense Day" exercises.

THEIR FIRST MEAL IN UNITED STATES
Lieutenants Arnold (left) and Smith, American round-the-world flyers, sit down to a meal of real ham and eggs at the cottage of Nelson Chase at Morepoint, Casco Bay, Me. It was their first meal in this country since their return. The flyers were forced to alight at the summer colony because of the heavy fog that made it impossible for them to continue on into Boston that day.

JOYS OF MOTHERHOOD

Often Prevented by Female Trouble

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brings Joy to Homes by Removing Cause of Trouble

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was working after I got married and the young lady who worked next to me asked me if I had any intentions of having a child. I told her I would be the happiest woman on earth if I could become a mother, but I always had terrible cramps, backaches and headaches. She then told me of a woman she knew who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the same troubles and it helped her greatly. I took about a half bottle and found that the following month I did not suffer any pain, so I kept on taking it. I have a wonderful baby boy six months old and he is as strong and fat as any one could wish a baby to be. I still take the Vegetable Compound regularly because I have looked fine all the time and felt fine and my mother told me that was the reason. I will be glad to have you publish my testimonial with my name and address."—Mrs. EDWARD WERBECK, 1824 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Free From Old Trouble
Auburn, Me.—"I suffered with inward weakness for ten years and had doctored all this long time but never got any help. One day I saw my sister and she told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I went and got me a bottle of it. I took two bottles and a half and I was just as free from my old troubles as I could be. I had only one child and I was afraid that I could never have any more, for I had been told that I never could have a living child for I was not strong enough to carry one. But they were mistaken and I had a nice baby boy and now I have five children. I can't praise your medicine enough. My youngest sister has taken it, too, and praises it."—Mrs. G. L. WISWELL, 43 Mechanic Row, Auburn, Maine.

These cases are similar to many others reported to us. It is well for women to carefully consider such statements and to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. It may bring great joy to your home.

Over 100,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

98 per cent of these replies are "Yes."

That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This goes to prove that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure-all—can and does do good work. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a medicine for women. For sale by druggists everywhere.

NAVAJO TRIBE INITIATES JACKIE COOGAN

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
NEA Service Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—When Jackie Coogan, to whom so many fabulous things have happened, reviews the honors and ceremonial bestowed upon his Dutch-bobbed head, probably the most cherished in years to come will be the one that initiated him into the Navajo tribe of Indians. For weeks now, young Coogan has been an accredited "medicine man" in the lodge of New Mexico's aborigines.

For weeks he has been trying to twist his tongue glibly around his tribal name, He Naye Yulthie, which, in pure Navajo, I am informed, means "Talking Eyes." Indians can find the appropriate name. Jackie has talked his way around the world with his eyes.

The ceremony took place at Albuquerque when the little picture star stopped there on his transcontinental trip gathering contributions for the Near East Relief Fund.

No white boy hitherto had been admitted to full membership in the patriotic Navajo clan, numbering 35,000. It was a matter of serious consideration by the old chief. What interested him most was that Jackie was bound for a distant land to hear good will and gifts to starving children, in behalf of legions of American youngsters.

Old Hash Kay Yashli, now past 90, was once a thorn in the side of Uncle Sam. He raised hob in New Mexico. He led the rebellion of 1883—the last full-fledged Indian outbreak in the region. He was a fighter. Now he is a philosopher, to whom a mission to miserable children engaged sympathy.

"Heap Good Boy"
Before making his decision on Coogan's eligibility, Hash Kay Yashli asked to see one of his pictures, then being shown at Gallup. Thither the chief was transported by Mike Kirk, Indian trader, whom natives there-about call "boss." At the conclusion of the film the chief delivered himself of this sententious verdict: "Humph—good! Heap good boy. Make 'um little medicine man. Call 'um He Naye Yulthie. Means Talk-ing Eyes."

For this narrative, as thus far related, I have relied upon the veracity of Jackie Coogan's publicity men, who are gentlemen as well as press agents. I'm sure they wouldn't deceive me, for you, as to one fact or detail of Coogan's induction into the Navajo brotherhood. True, that "Talking Eyes" sound a bit inspired. But, be that as it may—

The old chief's mandate went forth (I'm following my gentlemanly press agents closely again), and the mauls and old women of the tribe got busy on appropriate costume for the adopted "medicine man." A belt with gorgeous buckles, fashioned of solid silver. Moccasins, with turquoise clasp; a green head dress; a scarlet tunic, trousers of the finest cured flexible leather, moccasins with buttons of silver.

Mythic Rites Held

Then there were appropriate and mystic rites during which the pale boy with the articulate oris sat passively in a circle of the tribe and their withered elders—recipient of their gifts to needy young-stars of whom they had never before heard, as well as of their high honor. And not least of the day's dramatic happenings, I am told, was the meeting of the chief and Dan Dubois, who, in '83, was on the trail of Hash Kay Yashli even as the latter was on the heels of the intrepid scout. Now they clasped hands in amity—while Jackie struggled excitedly into his scarlet tunic and silver-buttoned leggings.

"Whatever the ceremonial may have meant to Jackie," vouch his honest publicists, "to the Indians this was no game, nor any press agent's ruse fulfilled."

white "medicine man" of the Navajos, when he breaks his ceremonial trappings from the moth balls in years to come, wouldn't want to be assailed by the doubt that his tribal compact had been merely a clever device to support a pretty story.

LICENSE BOARD GRANTS PERMITS

At a routine meeting of the license commission last evening, the following permits were granted:
Billiards and pool, James J. Carney, of 50 Charles street; lodging house, Lena C. Bean, of 30 Westford street; hawk and peddler, Edmund D. Haydon, of West Chelmsford; Harvey A. Perreault, of 157 Lakeview avenue and Bernard J. Kirk, of 487 Broadway. A renewal of the ice cream and confectionery license of Frank Murad, of 42 Charles street, was granted.
The ice cream and confectionery license held by Fred Murad at 100 Suffolk street was surrendered and cancelled.

CONCERT AND DANCE
A concert and dance was given last evening in the Thomas Talbot Memorial hall in behalf of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica. Music was supplied by a Lowell orchestra. A feature of the evening was the drawing of prizes offered at the recent held day of the parish.

A free radio-casting station was opened at the Iowa state fair.

all men, and Sumner H. Smith of Lincoln, who seeks re-election. The city vote was: Campbell, 5711; Bailey, 1497; Smith, 955.

Although only one or two of the 50 cities and towns in the sixth congressional district have been heard from, Mr. Campbell this noon conceded Mr. Smith's nomination and mailed to him a letter of congratulation.

The primaries brought a distinct overturn in the 14th representative district, where Rep. Owen E. Brennan failed to place. Rep. Charles H. Slowey was high man in the district with 1731 votes, with Patrick Nestor coming out Rep. Brennan for second place by 51 votes. Councillor Eugene A. Fitzgerald was fourth.

Councillor Frederick A. Sadlier of ward 4 met a tartar in Charles F. Donahoe in the 16th representative district where the latter walked off with the nomination with many votes to spare. The totals were: Donahoe, 1092; Sadlier, 935.

In the 16th representative district, the present trio of legislators, Henry Achin, Jr., Victor F. Jewett and Fred O. Lewis, found easy sailing and landed high and dry. Cornelius J. O'Neill, running strong in Lowell. They piled up substantial leads over A. L. Wardwell and James Andrew, their two opponents. The duplication of the Wardwell names was expected to cause some confusion, but on the whole the voters discriminated well.

The fight for the republican nomination for county commissioner developed considerable interest and found Alfred L. Cutting and Walter C. Wardwell, the present incumbents, running strong in Lowell. They piled up substantial leads over A. L. Wardwell and James Andrew, their two opponents. The duplication of the Wardwell names was expected to cause some confusion, but on the whole the voters discriminated well.

Simple Two-Tube Set Gets Distance

HOOK-UP DIAGRAM OF SMALL DISTANCE GETTER

BY ISRAEL KLIN
N.E.A. Service Radio Editor
Alleged long distance records of reception with only one tube, such as "Pewell's" from Chicago to Poldhu, England, may be only radio tricks, but there are two-tube circuits that actually prove consistent long distance results.

Such a circuit is the one to be described today. It is the circuit used by a fan in Havana, Cuba, who has been listening in on the high-powered broadcasting stations in this country with ease, despite the heavy static prevailing most of the year in that area.

It is simply designed and easy to construct. Two honeycomb coils make the antenna inductance. The first tube is used as a stage of radio frequency amplification, and the second is the detector provided with a feed-back arrangement to the antenna.

The aerial should be about 55 feet long and about 15 feet high for best reception with the honeycomb coils provided. However, a total length of 100 feet for antenna and lead-in is the essential factor.

The parts for this set are:

- L1, one 35-turn honeycomb coil.
- L2, one 75-turn honeycomb coil.
- C1, one .0005 variable condenser.
- R1 and R2, two 20-ohm rheostats.
- C2, one 5 to 15-plate vernier variable condenser.
- T, one radio frequency transformer.
- C3, one .0022 mfd. by-pass condenser.
- C4, one grid leak, varying from 15 to 2 megohms, and condenser, .00025 mfd.

Bus wire for connections.

The tubes for this set are both of the UV301-A, or the C301-A type. For these the A battery has a voltage of 45 volts.

SET CLAIMS INCREASE IN SELECTIVITY

BY N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Two new ideas in radio manufacture and a departure in design feature, the latest form of receiver that is being prepared for the market.

It is called the "synchrophase" receiver and is a five-tube radio frequency circuit brought out by A. H. Grebe and Company of Richmond Hill, L. I.

The features that it is contended make this set unique and an interesting study are:

1.—Radio inductances, in the form of "bifilar coils," that are designed so as to eliminate the latest electro-magnetic fields and avoid local interference.

2.—Variable condensers with peculiarly shaped plates that permit of an even selectivity in tuning and accurate calibration of stations.

The departure in design consists of setting the condensers vertically, with dials above, so that only a segment of each dial projects through the panel to be visible to the operator. A horizontal wheel projecting from the panel below operates the vernier arrangement for each condenser.

Like Opera Glasses
The idea of the bifilar coils is that of two similar solenoids wound in opposite directions and parallel to each other, so that their magnetic fields neutralize each other. This precludes the possibility of picking up signals that are too powerful to be eliminated otherwise. Local stations, it is argued, may be tuned out with ease.

A maximum of selectivity, the manufacturer says, is thus obtained.

Even Control
The new type of condensers, according to their designer, allows accurate equalization of dial settings, due to even separation of stations along the dial, and permits of greater ease in calibrating the various frequencies covering the broadcast range.

As a result of these changes, Alfred Grebe, manufacturer of this set, claims ease of control, greater selectivity, clarity, volume and greater distance for it.

Instead of controlling the volume by a series of plugs, in the amplifying circuit, Grebe has utilized a new variable input method on this set, which gives air gradual variations and permits maintenance of the most desirable ratio of radio to audio amplification.

BRITISH AMATEURS JOIN PROTEST

(By N.E.A. Service)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—Amateurs of Great Britain are beginning an organized protest against the limitations of the government against amateur transmission.

The specific limitation to which they object is the ruling that amateur messages shall be transmitted only to stations in the British Isles that are actually taking part in the experiments conducted by the amateur transmitting.

The result in such strict enforcement has been placed on this provision, that amateurs find themselves unable to try long distance transmission on the low wavelengths accorded them. Trans-Atlantic transmission is practically out of the question, and exchange of messages even with French and other European operators is outside of their bounds.

Feeling has begun to run so high that there is serious talk of a concerted campaign which may bring about revocation of the objectionable ruling.

COURSES BY RADIO

The new college of the air organized by the Kansas State Agricultural college at Manhattan, Kan., will have 40 courses to broadcast this fall and winter. They will cover the fields of agriculture, engineering, homemaking, business and general science.

ANIMALS AT "MIKE"

Animals of the London zoo have been enjoying themselves and radio fans with the broadcasting of their voices. Station KLO, at London, has been the medium through which every animal and bird in the zoo has made itself known to the fans.

Europe uses the German language for broadcasting, the latest being the one at Vienna. France has only seven such stations.

SIGNALS COME AND GO WORLD'S BANKERS MAY HELP RADIO

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Five receiving sets and a transmitter have been worked successfully at the same time on board the same ship!

This remarkable achievement was accomplished recently in tests conducted on a U. S. battleship off the coast of Virginia. At this time communication was established with stations in San Francisco and San Diego, Calif., with the ship's transmitter and five receiving sets working at the same time.

Different wavelengths were used in transmission and in each form of reception, although the same aerial did duty for both sending and receiving.

The instrument that made this achievement possible was a specially constructed electron tube transmitter of 10-kilowatt power, which emits a pure wave, and a recent invention that makes multiple reception possible on the same antenna.

PICNIC BROADCAST
Chicago is going to try broadcasting a picnic on Oct. 5. A broadcasting station mounted on a truck will be taken to Grand park, and from here entertainers and speakers will transmit their selections to the listeners, while others about them will enjoy them also by sight.

ANTIQUE ALREADY
Radio already has its antiques for preservation. For this purpose the National Museum at Washington has begun collecting instruments that have already become obsolete.

THOUSANDS ENROLLED
More than 700 enrollments have been received for the course in French being broadcast every Wednesday from Station KFO, at San Francisco. Charts for each lesson are furnished every person who enrolls.

RADIO VAUDEVILLE
Some of the larger broadcasting stations over the country are arranging a radio vaudeville circuit. Actors and actresses have been signed up so that, when they strike a city including one of the stations in the circuit, they will broadcast their skit.

SCIENCE BY RADIO
Lectures on scientific subjects, so that any layman may understand, will be broadcast this fall from Station WRC at Washington. The Smithsonian Institution there is to furnish the speakers.

NETWORK FOR FRANCE
France is to follow England with the idea of a national network of radio transmitting stations. These will also serve as regional broadcasting stations.

OPERAS FOR THE AIR
Operas and other performances produced in state-owned theatres in France may soon be put on the air for the benefit of fans throughout that country. A demand is growing for this form of entertainment.

REVUE IS BOOKED
Ernie Young's famous Revues have been booked 23 consecutive weeks to be broadcast from Station KTV at Chicago. Every Wednesday evening Young will broadcast his revue, covering a period of two and a half hours each time.

RADIO FOR TRAFFIC

Traffic police assigned to stop speeding have radio transmitters and receivers on their cars. A message from one cop to another farther down the road enables the second to be ready for the speeder when he arrives.

POWER BY RADIO

Two inventors of Southend, England, have been working on a means of transmitting power by radio. They have already succeeded in lighting an electric light, starting a motor and ringing a bell at some distance.

FIVE ELEMENT TUBE

A five-element tube, recently introduced to radio fans, is said to do the same work that a number of the present three-element tubes do. It can modulate, oscillate, rectify and amplify, says its inventor.

SANTA CLAUS EARLY

Santa Claus came to the fans of Station WJAF, Kansas City, in the middle of summer this year. The Crosley Radio corporation, which runs the station, arranged for a midsummer festival with Santa taking the leading role.

PIANO LESSONS AGAIN

Station WDAF, Kansas City, is planning to repeat its series of piano lessons, after the present 20 are concluded. This decision was prompted by numerous requests from new fans.

HIGHEST STATION

The new station being erected by France at the observatory of the Pic du Midi will be the highest in the world. It will stand 8700 feet above sea level.

THE VOICE FROM KGO

Fans listening in on KGO, Oakland, Calif., know this man only as "H. M." when he signs off with these initials. He is Howard J. Milholland, studio director and chief announcer at that station.

CORD WILL HOLD RADIO TIPS

Good radio phones have a string attached to the end, where the tips are. This string has a definite use. Since the tips are to be used only as connections through the phone plug, there must be some way to hold the cord to the plug. The string is put there for that purpose.

Some plugs have a little hook to which the cord is tied, so that the individual cord to each tip hangs loosely and does not strain the tip. If there is no such hook, some way should be found by which the string may be tied.

SHORT WAVE RECORD

Dr. A. H. Taylor of the Naval Research Laboratory at Bellevue, D. C., holds the record for long distance on a short wavelength. Recently experimenting with a 24-meter wave, he is said to have reached as far as Rio de Janeiro, 4750 miles away.

Pirates Drop Two and Melancholy Spotlight Hovers Over Pittsburgh

ABBOTS ARE EASY WINNERS IN THE OPENING GAME WITH SILESIA

Graniteville Team Takes First Game of Series, 9 to 2—
Second Game in North Chelmsford Tomorrow Night
—Percia May Oppose Greenhalgh

The first game of the series between the Abbot Worsheds and the Silesia mills was won by the Abbot in Graniteville last evening by a score of 9 to 2. Rabe McQuinn was the star for the Abbot and had little difficulty in holding the heavy Silesia batters in check, while the Abbot batted Paddy Noonan and Steinhilber for all kinds of blows.

The game was played in a driving rain which started up play to some extent, and which kept down the attendance to a minimum. The contest was called in the sixth inning when the rain came down in torrents and forced players and spectators to seek covered shelter.

The second game in the series will be played in North Chelmsford (Silesia park) tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. Loss-up will decide the location of the third game. Percia and Greenhalgh may be the next opposing pitchers.

Last night's clash was Abbot's all the way. Starting off in the first inning, they scored six big runs before the side was retired. In accomplishing the feat, the nine batted around once, and when there were only two away, the millmen yanked Noonan in favor of Steinhilber. Noonan appeared to be grooving the ball to Abbot's liking and the pill went sailing into the outer territories for extra bases on several occasions. It was a great hitting game for the Abbot.

A slight mishap occurred during Steinhilber's first appearance at bat. He was struck on the back of the head by one of Mitchell's shots and went down. He recovered sufficiently to continue play, however, but Rabe Greenhalgh had to be sent in to run for him.

Williams had a big day in the field for the Abbot. He went after everything which went his way and captured several errors from the Silesia side. He accepted five hard chances without an error. At the bat, Dixie Walker was the big noise. In four trips to the plate, he collected three hits, one of them a triple. Gordy Urann and McQuinn also connected for triples, while Driscoll, Fied, Williams and Forsythe garnered doubles.

The game in detail:

First Inning
Silesia—Faulkner, first man up, struck out. Driscoll sent a bubble down the third base foul line. Conley was thrown out at first. Williams to Dameron. Fied laid down a bunt, which he beat out. Driscoll scoring with the first run of the game. Gilmore whiffed.

Second Inning
Silesia—Lynch doubled to left. Forsythe hit into a double play, Williams to R. Urann. Sullivan struck out. Abbot—Williams was safe on an error by Faulkner. St. Angelo was hit by a pitched ball. Walker hit to Steinhilber who threw to Forsythe for the retirement of Williams. Dameron fled out to Faulkner. G. Urann took three healthy swings.

Third Inning
Silesia—Steinhilber, who had relieved Noonan, was hit by a pitched ball. Greenhalgh ran for him. Faulkner fled out to Walker. Greenhalgh was thrown out. The second, when Urann felled Driscoll's grounder to that station. Conley fled out to Walker.

Fourth Inning
Silesia—Fied singled to center. Gilmore went out at first, Williams to Dameron. Lynch fled out to G. Urann. Fied scored on Forsythe's double. Sullivan fled out to St. Angelo.

Fifth Inning
Silesia—Steinhilber fanned. Faulkner grounded to Mitchell. Driscoll popped a fly to Mitchell.

Sixth Inning
Silesia—Conley whiffed. Fied fled

Obscure Penn. Hamlet Basks in Spotlight As Birthplace of Washington's Boss

STANLEY HARRIS

Maybe you never heard of Port Jervis, Pa. Neither did we. Until the other day, when some relentless historian disclosed the little Pennsylvania hamlet as the birthplace of Stanley Harris, sensational kid manager of the Washington Senators, likely winners of the American league championship.

Harris was born there 28 years ago. He has been with Washington since 1910. Buffalo had him the year before. Prior to that he was with Reading, Norfolk, Muskegon and Saginaw. Also he had brief trials with Detroit and Pittsburgh, getting his start with the Pirates in 1915. He's five feet, nine inches, weighs 160, bats and throws right-handed and is one of the most popular men in baseball.

GOLDEN COVE PARK IS TRAINING TO BUST TRAP-SHOOTING RECORDS

Golden Cove park has been transformed into a typical New England fair grounds, for the opening tomorrow of the Lowell fair, conducted under the auspices of the Lowell Driving club, and Agricultural society. Inc. Weather permitting, there should be a large attendance on the opening day, for this year's exhibition is much larger in physical size and number of features, and merits the attention of men, women and children who like "country fairs," widely and the displays of farm and garden products, as well as poultry and farm animals in profusion. There are prizes and ribbons to be awarded in various exhibitions of farm products.

Four large tents are now installed on the spacious cove grounds to house the poultry and animals featured in displays of Middlesex county's best. An automobile show tent has been erected on land between the railroad and the race track.

A new feature this year will be a showing of flowers grown by amateurs. Many home gardeners have entered specimens in the competition for prizes. Will Rounds, the florist photographer, is to display a large variety of his garden products. The dog show will have many entries for inspection, and the Lowell Homing club will release several hundred homing pigeons on Saturday afternoon.

The track racing cards have been filled, and excellent matches are assured. Crack speeders are coming to show their prowess, and the contests slated should prove highly attractive each day.

Chelmsford brass band will play every day and evening; there will be a midway show that will please all comers, and before the exhibition closes there will be a special day set aside for city and state officials, some of whom came to Lowell last year to participate in the inaugural exhibition.

Lowell Boy Tired in Bout
With Lew Paluso—Norfolk Beats McCreary

Wee Willie Woods Loses

Decision to New Sensation in Flyweight Ranks

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—Kid Norfolk retained his colored light heavyweight title, defeating Battling McCreary in a 10-round bout at the Armory A. A. in Mechanics hall last night. McCreary was over the weight and the announcement was made that Norfolk's title was not in the balance. It didn't matter much since the New York man by his superior skill managed to outpoint the local man in a majority of the rounds, and the verdict in a rough, hard contest.

Low Paluso of Salt Lake City squared accounts with Billy Murphy of Lowell, winning the decision in a 10-round event. Murphy started away like a sure winner, but towards the finish of the contest seemed to tire and allowed Paluso to pile up a big lead in points. At the finish the Lowell man was quite a distance in the rear of Paluso.

The fight of the night was between Willie Woods and Newboy Brown, a youngster from Sioux City. The visitor from the west won the decision in one of the best contests seen in this city. Woods took a beating, but was there at the finish fighting back with a vengeance.

Brown, know altogether too much for the Scotch champion and was clearly the best little man to appear here in many a day. Pancho Villa and Frankie Genaro have something to look forward to in the way of competition from the new aspirant for flyweight and bantamweight honors.

Woods was knocked down in the ninth round, but he refused to wake the count. It was the closest local fans ever came to seeing the sturdy little Scotchman stopped.

At Rogerson defeated Joe Acceta of Providence in a spacy round event. The officials were Dave Neilgan and Pat Moran, Judges, Denny White, timer; Abe Goodman and Joe O'Connor, referees.

CARDINALS ADMINISTER DOUBLE DEFEAT TO PITTSBURGH TEAM

Pirates Now Three Games Behind Dodgers—Yanks Win Over Red Sox by Ninth Inning Rally and Gain Half Game on Washington

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The melancholy spotlight hovers today over Pittsburgh. Yesterday St. Louis focused it by winning two games from the Cardinals, both of which were held in a 10-run rout.

The Cardinals lost a full game to the Giants and Robins, both of which were held in a 10-run rout. The Cardinals lost a full game to the Yankees, both of which were held in a 10-run rout.

NORTH CAMBRIDGE WINS CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

By defeating the Lawrence Independents, 4-3, at Russell field, Cambridge, last night, the North Cambridge team won the championship of the Greater Boston Twilight league for the second consecutive season. Chippie Gaw opposed Lefty Tyler on the mound. Both pitched effective ball, although Tyler pitched good enough ball to win. The Independents attributed the loss of the deciding game to erratic umpiring by Arlier Kelley, who called the game off in the first half of the ninth when Hebert had two men on bases and none out.

Each team collected seven hits. Sweett and Cote being the only ones to contribute in a spacy round event. The officials were Dave Neilgan and Pat Moran, Judges, Denny White, timer; Abe Goodman and Joe O'Connor, referees.

FIRPO AND WILLS MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The wild bull of the Pampas and the brown panther of New Orleans paw and glide in their cages today awaiting a meeting at Boyle's thirty A. A. tomorrow night which will provide an opponent for Dempsey, the killer.

Firpo concluded his training yesterday with a final workout against Miguel Ferrera and Bill Tate. Wills rounded out his two months of preparation at Southampton with a brisk walk and then motored, with his wife and retinue, to his home in Harlem.

Tomorrow morning both will go to Jersey City to weigh in before the New Jersey boxing commission.

Unsettled weather now looms as the one possible interloper with plans for the fight, which, Rickard stated, would be held on Friday night if his customary luck with the weather failed tomorrow.

Quincy, the expert has not resolved into definite conclusions. Broadly Firpo is favored if the fight is short and Wills is given an edge if it goes the full 12 rounds—a result which few critics expected.

FOOTBALL
Veterans and candidates for the Cardinal football team are requested to report for initial workout Saturday afternoon on the old grounds.

The Cadets Thirds have been reorganized for the coming season. Special practice will be held on the North common at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. All candidates for the team are requested to report.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

Questions

1. With the count of two strikes on the batsman, for some reason he steps out of his box. The pitcher seeking to take advantage of this act, hurriedly delivers the ball to his catcher. It is over the plate at the proper height. Should the batter be declared out?—H. J. P.

2. A says that a batter can be balked with no men on the bases and so to that. B says a balk is impossible without runners on, and never in any way affects the status of the batter. Who is right?—J. E.

3. A ball is hit over the fence. It goes over fair, but curves foul before going out of sight of the umpire. Is it fair or foul ball?—Dr. J. W. G.

4. There is a runner on first base. He starts to steal second. The batter hits the ball between first and second, and as the base umpire runs toward second, expecting a play at that base, the ball hits his foot. Runner on first reaches second and batsman first in safety. What is the correct ruling?—D. A. T.

Answers

1. Batsman usually has a good reason for getting out of the box. Umpire should always call time when he does so. Quick delivery by pitcher is unparliamentary and dangerous. Umpire should have considered the ball dead and made no ruling.

2. B is right. There must be runners on for pitcher to make a balk. Calling of a balk in no way affects status of batter.

3. It is a foul ball. Umpire must watch the ball until it passes from his sight and render ruling in accordance to where it is at such a time.

4. If umpire is hit by batted ball before a play is made on it, batsman is entitled to first. Runner on first must advance to second to make room for batsman.

QUESTIONS

1. There are runners on second and third. Batsman doubles, scoring both men. Team in field discovers batter, who made two-base hit, was an improper batsman. An appeal is made to the umpire before a ball is pitched. What is the proper ruling? A says the runs count. B claims otherwise.—G. E. D.

2. Manager of team at bat sends in a left-handed pinch-hitter. Manager of team in field substitutes a south-paw pitcher. Manager of team at bat then sends in a right-handed pinch-hitter for the left-handed hitter previously announced as the pinch-hitter. Manager of team in field wants to take out his south-paw pitcher. Game ends in an argument. What is the proper ruling in such a situation?—E. H. T.

3. Manager sends in a pinch-hitter to bat for the pitcher. The pinch-hitter happened to be a catcher, and at the start of the next inning the manager decided to keep him in the game as catcher to handle the new pitcher. How do the shifted players bat?—D. S. A.

ANSWERS

1. Since the mistake was discovered before a ball was pitched to the succeeding batsman, umpire should declare the proper batsman out. No runs can score on any act of an improper batsman. Runners should be sent back to their original bases. B is correct.

2. It is always possible to change pinch-hitters as often as desired. The announcing of a pinch-hitter, and then the using of some player in his place, merely removes him from the game. When a pinch-hitter is sent in, he must pitch until one batter reaches first or is retired.

3. Catcher, who acted as pinch-batter for pitcher, and then is continued in the game, must continue to bat in pitcher's place. New pitcher bats in the catcher's place.

Rickenbacker

A CAR WORTHY OF ITS NAME

Another Rickenbacker Invention

At Last—An Adjustable Wrist-pin Bearing!
—A Cure for "Pistonpinitis"

This is the 8th Fundamental! Improvement first introduced in a motor car by Rickenbacker engineers.

For the first time in the history of this industry it is now possible to adjust that bearing which sustains the greatest grief of all bearings in a motor.

Heretofore it was necessary in all motors, to replace the bushings when they became ever so slightly worn.

Because the first shock of power impulses—and every shock—comes on the wrist-pin bearing—the bearing in upper end of connecting rod and piston.

This must be the closest fitting—most accurately made—bearing in the entire car.

Therefore one-thousandth of an inch wear renders it noisy—and once "play" develops, it continues to increase rapidly.

For 25 years—since there was a motor car—engineers have dreamed of an adjustable bushing for this point.

Rickenbacker engineers produced and patented this one.

Just think! Instead of "taking down" the motor and replacing bushing with new—scraping—lapping—fitting—a job that called for an expert mechanic and special appliances, and even then ran into a full day's time—

Any garage man—or any owner, who likes to work with his car—can easily adjust all six wrist-pin bearings in his Rickenbacker motor in 2 1/2 hours.

And you can adjust each bearing to one quarter thousandth of an inch accuracy.

There is the great value of this Rickenbacker adjustable bushing—it will not only save much time and great expense,—but—

Being so simple to do, it will be done before a serious condition develops. So your motor will be kept at "concert pitch" all the time.

It is one of nine Fundamental improvements—nine examples of advanced engineering—you first saw or heard of in a Rickenbacker Six. In order of their advent these nine are:—

- 1—Tandem Fly Wheels
- 2—"Cradle" Springs
- 3—Steel Disc Wheels
- 4—Ball Bearing Steering
- 5—Air Cleaner
- 6—"Double Depth" Frame
- 7—4-Wheel Brakes
- 8—Adjustable Piston-pin Bearing
- 9—Fuel and Oil Rectifier

Chairman of Shoe Board Levies Fines Upon Both Operator and Foreman

HAVERHILL, Mass., Sept. 8.—Chairman Edwin Atwater of the shoe board today ordering the reinstatement of a vamp who had been discharged from the Hartman Shoe Company for leaving the factory without the permission of the foreman, levied fines upon both the operator and the foreman. Testimony revealed that the operator had been kept waiting for work an undue length of time without explanation from the foreman. It was also stated that the foreman had discouraged the vamp, reporting the matter to the union, a step in direct opposition to the working agreement. The vamp is ordered reinstated, but is fined $5 for leaving the factory without permission. The foreman is fined $10 for attempting to intimidate the vamp and preventing her from reporting to the union.

IDENTIFY SEAMAN WHO COMMITTED SUICIDE

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 9.—The suicide from the U.S.S. Antrim last week was E. L. Beard, seaman first class sailing from Atlanta, Ga. The experts from the torpedo station division, who have been engaged in the deep water search have abandoned their daily visits to the bottom of the bay as it is considered that there is no chance of locating the body. Hazing was the cause of Beard's taking his life as the flying crew have understood it. The enlistment record and other history of the case has gone along with the ship except for the report on the court of inquiry which has been forwarded to Washington.

MUST PROVE VICTORY NOT A KLAN VICTORY

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Lincoln Dixon, western democratic manager, in a statement on the Maine election results today said: "A normally republican state has returned its usual republican majority with results that leave the republicans more at sea than ever. "There was no La Follette ticket in the field to cut heavily into their vote, as it will in the western states and in many of the eastern states. "They have fallen considerably below the majority of 1920 on the face of latest returns today. They face the necessity of proving that their victory was not a Klan victory."

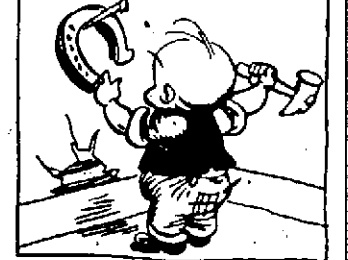

MORGAN OFFICIAL MEETS FRENCH BANKERS

PARIS, Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press) Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. The question does not appear to have been settled, but it is in such a position that it can be disposed of quickly.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 20

Of course, it was very hot in the African jungle and the explorers didn't need any blankets to sleep under. Jack started to pile up a nice bed of leaves for a bed when the captain shouted, "Come on, young fellow, let's you and I gather some fire wood so we can have a fine big blaze."

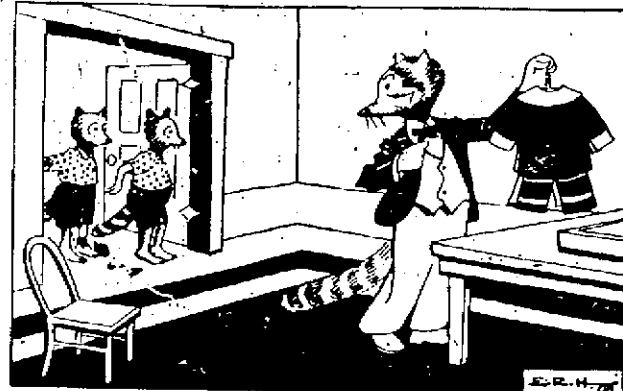

"Sure thing," replied Jack. And very shortly he and the captain were piling up bundles of broken tree limbs. Jack laughed when his pet monkey ran ahead of him and picked up smaller limbs and added them to the piles the little adventurer was making. The little animal wanted to help, too.

Flip was apparently tired from working his way through the jungle. He slunk down on the ground near where the camp fire was being built and dozed to sleep. Jack, in the meantime, walked farther and farther away from the rest of the men, in his search for firewood. (Continued.)

TATTLE TALE CROW TELLS A SECRET

"I think we should take extra care when we make the new school suits for the Coon boys," said Mister Snip Snay to Nick.

"Mister Ringtail Coon has always been one of my best customers and I take great pains to have his suits exactly right."

"Well," said Nick to the fairytan, "I measured every inch of them as carefully as ever I could. And I'm sure they ought to look nice."

Mister Ringtail Coon was thinking about the same thing. "It's just like boys not to want to be dressed up," he chuckled, "when they've been accustomed to old clothes and bare feet all summer. But when the little rascals see how nice they are going to look, they will take more pride in keeping their faces and hands clean, and their ears washed and their hair brushed. The only thing that worries me is their appetites. I can't understand why they don't eat more. But, of course, they'll look better a bit thinner. Their suits will fit all the nicer."

If he could have seen them at that minute, he wouldn't have worried a mite about their appetites.

For they were in Mister Farmer's sweet-corn patch, stuffing out their sides like Christmas turkeys, so they were.

"No, thank you, Uncle Ring, we don't want any supper," they said again.

GIBSON WINS IN VERMONT

Republican Congressman
Scores Easy Victory in
Fight for Renomination

His Vote to Over-ride Pres.
Coolidge's Bonus Bill
Veto Leading Issue

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 10.—Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro, republican congressman from the second Vermont district, won a comparatively easy victory in his campaign for renomination in the state primaries yesterday.

He defeated John W. Gordon of Barre by a plurality of 3700 votes out of a total for the district of less than 15,000. He carried six of the seven counties.

The only other contests on either the republican or democratic tickets were for the republican nominations for governor and lieutenant governor. For the former place Franklin K. Billings, the present lieutenant governor, defeated Roland W. Stevens of White River Junction by a vote of almost 3 to 1. He carried every county in the state.

The nomination for lieutenant governor went to State Senator Walter K. Farnsworth, who won over State Senator J. Gregory Smith. Smith carried his own county, Franklin, but all of the others were in the Farnsworth column.

The vote of the state, with a few small towns missing, was: For republican lieutenant-governor: Farnsworth 23,053; Smith 15,846. For republican governor: Billings 28,295; Stevens 10,816. The congressional vote was: Gibson 11,134; Gordon 7573. Congressman Gibson's act in voting to over-ride President Coolidge's veto of the soldiers' bonus bill, had been used as a campaign argument against him. Other than this there were no issues raised having any bearing on the national campaign. Mr. Stevens in his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination, directed most of his attention to the matter of better roads and stricter law enforcement.

The vote was light in spite of the efforts of the candidates to roll up a good total. Less than 40,000 republicans visited the polls yesterday as against a total republican vote in the election two years ago of 49,181 and 63,220 in the last presidential election.

Storms disrupted the communication with several small towns and among those from which no report was received as a result was President Coolidge's birthplace, Plymouth.

Lions Clubs since its inception in 1917, when he was instrumental in bringing together a group of clubs out of which the present organization has grown. As a result of his activity he was elected secretary general of the association at its first convention, which established headquarters in Chicago. He was given charge of administrative affairs, and was made editor of the Lions Club Magazine, a monthly publication. The organization work under his control has resulted in the association growing from 25 clubs to 350 in the past seven years. His work has compelled him to travel 40,000 to 50,000 miles each year, taking him to every part of the North American continent, and he is in consequence an authority on all subjects pertaining to civic and social clubs. The three largest of the service clubs have their established headquarters in Chicago and the Lions are now becoming one of the leaders of the three. Lions clubs select one man from every vocation, and cater to the young, active, red-blooded American business man. They emphasize, in all their activities co-operation, fellowship and neighborliness.

TO DISCUSS 10 PER CENT WAGE REDUCTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Whether the United Textile Workers of America will oppose the 10 per cent wage reduction recently announced by the Manville-Johns Co., Rhode Island textile manufacturers, and whether the organization will endorse the La Follette-Wheeler ticket, were questions on the agenda of the union's convention that opened today.

Thomas McMahon, International president, said that resolutions covering the two questions probably would not come up before tomorrow. He declared that Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, had urged that the convention endorse Senators La Follette and Wheeler.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED AGAINST LOWELL MEN

The Middlesex county grand jury late yesterday afternoon returned 132 indictments and eight "no bills" in a final report to Judge Richard T. Irwin at East Cambridge.

Lowell persons indicted include Raphael T. Palardy, former treasurer of the Notre Dame de Lourdes Credit Union, charged with the larceny of $15,887 from the union; Farrell, charged not guilty at arraignment and was held in bonds of $20,000 for trial. William H. Graham was indicted on two counts of larceny in the night. He was charged with entering the building of Charles G. Bailey and stealing $15 from the cash drawer. It is alleged he stole $7.45. He pleaded not guilty to each charge and was held in $1000 for trial.

Paul F. MacKenzie of Lowell was indicted for manslaughter in connection with the death in this city on June 17 of Richard Maynard. Herbert N. Flannery, G. E. Cochrane and John L. Tatro are charged with breaking into the freight sheds of the Manchester & Concord Express Co. on June 17.

State's Attorney Dissatisfied

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, in a statement immediately after the session said: "I still believe that the death penalty is the only penalty feared by the murderers."

He said the responsibility for the decision rested with the court alone and that he had no desire to criticize it, but that he would continue to do "everything within my power to enforce the law honestly and vigorously without regard to the status of the criminal."

After sentence had been pronounced, Nathan Leopold, Sr., father of one of the defendants, who sat with head bowed while the judge read his opinion, said that he would never attempt to obtain the release of his son from the penitentiary. When asked if that were his attitude, he replied emphatically "Surely, surely."

Victory for Justice

"It was all we could have asked for," said Clarence S. Darrow, chief defense counsel. "There will be no appeal."

"I do not regard it as a victory except a victory for justice," said Benjamin Bachrach of defense counsel, as he shook off those who offered congratulations on the youths' escape from the noose. "Do not congratulate me personally."

Nathan F. Leopold, Sr., sat silently weeping. He offered no comment and merely nodded his head when friends grey-haired judge in his decision. "In choosing imprisonment instead of death the court is moved chiefly by the age of the defendants, boys of 18 and 19 years."

"It is not for the court to say that he will not in any case enforce capital punishment, but he believes it is within his province to decline to impose the sentence of death on persons who are not of full age."

Judge Caverly added that while life imprisonment "may not strike the public imagination as forcibly as would hanging," yet "to the offenders, particularly of the type they are, the prolonged suffering of years of confinement may well be the severer form of retribution and expiation."

He pointed out that under the state law it is within the discretion of the department of public welfare never to admit these defendants to parole and that "if this course is persevered in, the punishment will satisfy the ends of justice and safeguard the interests of society."

Attorney Darrow Pleased

Not a muscle moved in Leopold's face as Judge Caverly indicated life imprisonment was his fate. Loeb rapidly blinked his eyelids, gulped almost unnoticeably and slightly contracted his lips. Not a portion of their bodies moved.

"That finishes my connection with this case," said Clarence S. Darrow, veteran chief defense counsel, whose plea on behalf of youth overcame the state's insistence on the death penalty.

Leopold and Loeb were quickly on their feet when court had been adjourned. Leopold, by his own momentum and the thrust of his ballist, was almost through the crowd enroute back to his cell before Loeb had been started. Loeb took a few seconds to grip Darrow's arm and pressed his lips in an evident control of emotion.

grouped about him and whispered in his ear.

The Loeb and Leopolds watched anxiously as Nathan, Jr., and Richard were pushed quickly back to the elevator to be returned to their cells.

Nathan Leopold, Sr., had recovered his composure, opened his cigar case and passed cigars to the members of the group as they filed from the room.

Edwin Gresham, uncle of the child murder victim, the only member of the Frank family in the court room, refused to comment on the sentences. He shook his head in a refusal, when asked for the Frank family's acceptance of the sentences as justice for the murder of Bobby.

An immense crowd gathered about the entrance of the Cook county jail when the decision became known. A score of motorcycle policemen lined up on both sides of the street held the people in check. The crowd was alert and merely stood about, watching the jail doors.

State's Attorney Crowe said that Leopold and Loeb probably would not start for Joliet before 2 p. m. Should it take more time to execute the papers, he said that the start would not be made before 4 p. m.

Heavy Guard Around Court

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (By the Associated Press.) For the sentencing today of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, Jr., confessed kidnapers-murders of 14-year-old Robert Franks, hundreds of detectives and policemen, mounted, motorcycle, and patrolmen, formed a bustling barrier about the historic Cook county criminal courts building and two automobile loads of picked riflemen accompanied Judge John R. Caverly to his last task in the criminal court session.

Judge Caverly, piloted by a large force of motor policemen, and guarded on all sides by mounted officers, reached the criminal courts building about twenty minutes of nine.

An untoward incident was reported as the judge's trip down town from his house.

Counsel for the youths, Benjamin and Walter Bachrach, and Clarence S. Darrow, Nathan Leopold, Sr., Allen Loeb, a brother of Richard, and a few friends of the two boys' families entered the courtroom shortly after Judge Caverly arrived.

The courtroom by this time was about one-third full, newspapermen, photographers, friends and counsel of the two defendants, court officers and detectives making up the entire assemblage.

Jacob Loeb, uncle of Richard, arrived twenty minutes before the time set for court to convene. His arrival completed the representation from the families of the defendants.

At 9.20 a. m. Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, and his assistants in the case, Thomas Marshall, Joseph Savage and Milton Smith, took their seats before the bench.

Leopold and Loeb were brought to the "bull pen" just outside the court room at 9.25 a. m.

Judge Reads Decision

Without preliminary Judge Caverly started reading his decision. He halted to rebuke photographers.

The present case, the judge said, differed from others in that the state was not forewarned of the plea of guilty.

"The plea of guilty did not form a point in favor of the defendants. The testimony has been detailed and elaborate, and has been given such wide publicity, that it would be useless to repeat any now," said Judge Caverly.

As Judge Caverly rapidly read his decision the two boys gave him a very studied and unexpressive inspection. Loeb, with his hands resting on his legs, and Leopold with hands crossed, head slightly inclined, scarcely moved.

"Judgment cannot be affected by the texts brought into the record," said Judge Caverly.

"The crime was abhorrent although there was no abuse of the body."

Firing Along Whole Line Between Forces of Rival Military Governors Battling for Possession of Shanghai—New Offensive by General Wu Pei-Fu

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10 (By the Associated Press).—Cessation of the deluge which halted fighting along the front south and west of Shanghai was the signal for resumption of firing along the whole line this morning between the forces of rival military governors battling for possession of Shanghai.

Reports from the Lungwa headquarters of the defending forces this morning said that additional advances were made against the invading forces in the Hing sector, west of Taihu lake, 30 miles west of Shanghai. Otis Allen and A. R. Campbell Carry Their Home City With Big Pluralities

Lowell voters yesterday contributed to the state-wide majority of Alvan T. Fuller in his contest for the republican nomination for governor, when they expressed a preference for him over his opponent, James Jackson, to the tune of slightly more than 1000 votes. At the same time, Speaker Gillett of the national house of representatives was asserting his strength over Louis A. Coolidge and Frederick W. Dallinger by a substantial plurality. Gillett polled 3574 votes, Coolidge 2823 and Dallinger 1829.

Two Lowell men who figured in sharp contests for nominations at the hands of the republicans, Dr. Otis Allen, candidate for state treasurer, and Abel H. Campbell, candidate for governor's council in the sixth district, ran far ahead of their respective opponents in the city, but failed to place. Dr. Allen had a clear-cut lead of more than 2000 votes over Youngman, favored to win, while Mr. Campbell literally swamped Bailey, another Low-

TOKIO, Sept. 10. (By the Associated Press).—The National Educational Association today announced plans to observe Sept. 12, American Defense day as Anti-war day in Japan.

The association plans to distribute pacifist literature emphasizing that education is the only path to real peace.

It will learn about 8 or 9 o'clock Saturday morning on the next leg of their journey.

When the New Orleans is flown to Bolling field she will be given an extensive examination. Lieut. Nelson will bring the plane here in that there may be no technical question as to whether he has omitted a few of the thousands of miles covered by the flight.

President Coolidge at noon received the three pilots at the White House and congratulated them on their success.

The aviators were accompanied by Secretary Weeks, Major-General Patrick, chief of the air service, and Brigadier-General Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service.

Life Imprisonment for Murder and 99 Years' Imprisonment for Kidnaping

Youth of Defendants Was the Controlling Factor in Judge's Decision

Hundreds of Detectives and Policemen on Guard at Court House

CRIMINAL COURT BUILDING, Chicago, Ills., Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press).—Sentences of life imprisonment for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks and ninety-nine years' imprisonment for kidnaping the boy were meted out today to Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb by Judge John R. Caverly. The youth of the defendants, 18 and 19, was all that saved them from the noose. No minor has ever been sentenced to death in Illinois on a plea of guilty, Judge Caverly said.

"The court finds no mitigation in the crime itself, in the defendants' personalities, or their antecedents," said Judge Caverly. He then accepted "full responsibility for deciding" to impose the death penalty on persons who are not of full age.

"It would have been the path of least resistance to impose the extreme penalty of the law," said the judge.

HORSE FATALLY INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

A horse, owned by John G. Conroy, a milk dealer of 509 East Merrimack street, was so painfully injured in a collision with an automobile truck at Chapel and Elm streets at 3:15 o'clock this morning that Harrison Baker, representing the Lowell Humane society, brought his suffering animal and by shooting.

The horse, attached to a milk wagon, was standing in Chapel street, when a Dodge truck, owned by Benjamin Frank of 117 Howard street, and operated by Constantine Stager of 233 Chelmsford street, skidded and struck, first the wagon, and then the horse. A deep wound was inflicted in the animal's left shoulder and he was weakened considerably through loss of blood when the Humane society officials arrived on the scene. As there appeared to be no hope of the horse's recovery, Mr. Baker sent a bullet through his brain. The remains were removed to the plant of the Lowell Rendering Co. in South Lowell.

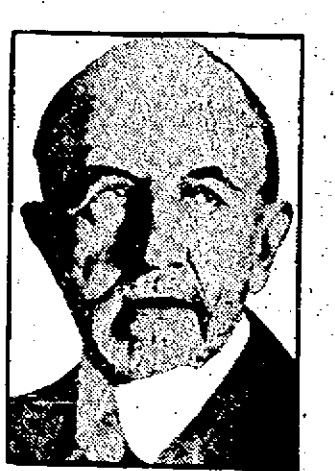

The truck and milk wagon suffered slight damages. The street was strewn with milk bottles.

DUCHESS MOVES TO SECURE DIVORCE

LONDON, Sept. 10. (By the Associated Press).—The Duchess of Westminster, who has figured prominently in the kettles connected with the entertainment of the Prince of Wales on Long Island, has petitioned for the dissolution of her marriage, the papers having been served on the duke, Aug. 18. It was revealed in court today. The divorce proceedings came out when attorneys for the duchess renewed their application made a fortnight ago for an injunction to restrain the duke from ejecting her from her home, Bourdon house, Berkeley square, near Grosvenor house, the duke's London home.

Local Defense Day Program

Major Estes explained in detail last evening the part that the national guard forces would take at the Auditorium outdoor and indoor patriotic exercises. There will be the national salute; massing of all the American flags carried in the street parade; the ceremony of retreat with five buglers salute the call; taps and a battery salute. Capt. Donald R. MacIntyre will command during the program of retreat. Capt. Molloy will have charge of the ceremonial trooping the colors, to be held within the Auditorium after the outdoor programs are concluded.

The general committee unanimously decided that only the national flag of the United States of America shall be displayed in the street parade. Fraternal, social and religious organizations may carry their insignias and emblems but the "U. S. A." will be lowered to be hoisted over any section of the marching columns in Lowell on "National Defense Day."

More local fraternal organizations eager to participate in the Sept. 12th demonstration of loyalty and patriotic complements, reported through delegated officers and committees, at last night's final business meeting of the Citizens' committee. All were cordially welcomed.

Lowell, Sept. 10. The city of Lowell, Mass., was represented by President Thomas P. Quinn, Vice President William Sheehan and Chaplain George M. Sheldale. President Quinn said the membership of the organization was 2537, and the organization plans to turn out a host of active members who will parade in a body. President Quinn gave a fine applauding acknowledgment when he reported, flourishing Lowell Aerie No. 223's auspicious program.

The city of Lowell's official "Defense Day Proclamation" was received from the mayor last night, and read by

Continued

Maj. Palmer. It is as follows:

"Defense Day Proclamation"

"In accordance with the expressed wish of the president of the United States, Friday, September 12th, has been set aside as a day for citizens to unite in public expression of national patriotism and loyalty to country."

"It is not proposed to display an arrogant militaristic spirit, but rather the inherent qualities of American manhood, ready to defend at all cost national honor. It is proposed to stimulate and keep alive in the breast of every true American the responsibility of citizenship, to the end that our country may ever remain in the forefront in upholding the truest and best instinct of humanity—a heinous light in the progress of civilization."

"May I, therefore, urge my fellow-citizens to enlist for one day in such a service to their country. Co-operate generously of your time in making successful the plans of the Defense Day committee. Respond to their request and instructions. Let Lowell of today prove as she has in the past, that the fires of patriotism are alive in the hearts of her citizens, and that it need be national honor and integrity are placed above life itself in this day and generation."

Elaborate Decorations

City hall will be elaborately decorated with American flags and bunting of patriotic hues, on Friday, Maj. Palmer was informed by municipal officials. It was the sentiment of the Citizens' committee members in session last evening, that Lowell homes and business places should be decorated also with the national colors so far as it can be done. An appeal was issued to citizens-at-large to publicly display the American flag on Sept. 12, if nothing more.

President James O'Sullivan of Division I, A.O.H. assured the general committee that his fraternal brothers would turn out en masse and march in a body through the city streets in the position assigned in the parade line. The parade is to be a monster affair of 65 units, the list of organizations to appear in the column including practically all representative institutions, comprising the best of the municipality's civic, social, fraternal, patriotic, religious and club life and pursuits.

Comrade Dudley Page led a delegation of G.A.R. comrades to last night's meeting, participating but little in the final discussions relative to Defense Day programs, but voting vigorously on all suggestions advanced for the successful promotion of Lowell's imposing "National Defense Day" demonstrations.

Lowell Rotary club, the Lions club, the South End club, the Advertising club, the Y.M.C.A. and numerous other boosters of the "citizens' committee's" programs, once more attested their "100 per cent" interest in the affair, promising also full representations in the street parade column.

Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen stated that between 200 and 400 Boy Scouts representing Lowell and numerous surrounding towns, would take part in policing the streets, aiding the regular police authorities to the best of their ability. They will also perform special police duties inside the Auditorium before, during and after the presentation of the Defense day program wind-up.

Enlistment Registration

Enlistment registrations at the big desk at "National Defense day" headquarters in the old Courier-Gitizen building, are coming in heavily. The average being about 1500 per day now, Maj. Percy A. Wilson reported to the program-makers last evening. He explained once more the "one-day enlistment" idea and urged more enrollments today and tomorrow to make the list as large as possible. Lowell, he said, in event of "the next war" would be called upon to furnish 3053 men by drafting.

Commander Harold Tivy, of American Legion post 116, North Billerica, reported that a full membership would probably not come to Lowell for the parade, but that a good many members were planning to come as an organization participant. The commander is working hard to get in touch with comrades all and is confident that he will lead a good-sized body of World War veterans from North Billerica precincts.

Capt. Wilson displayed the new signs that will be carried on short poles by the different organized reserve detachments, in the Friday street parade. The lettering on the engineers' insignia will be blue and red—regular U.S.A. colors. The artillery regiments would be yellow bordered, and so on down the designation route. Spanish-American war veterans sent word that they would parade as one organization, Friday. The announcer received a cordial greeting.

The Y.M.C.A. membership plans to parade as a unit, the designation being Company A, 412th engineers, Organized Reserves. This is the mayor's command.

A popular veteran of the Spanish-American war, Sergt. Frank Hotchkiss of Lowell, was selected to lower the flag in front of Memorial Auditorium, during the evening ceremony of retreat. The sergeant fought against Spain as a member of the First U. S. Infantry (regulars) and had a distinguished service record.

General Orders Read

"The general orders for the patriotic Sept. 12 street demonstration parade, were issued today and appear elsewhere. A proof of the official orders was read at last night's meeting of the Citizens' committee by Secretary Walsh and unanimously approved. One thousand copies of the orders will be promptly printed and a copy mailed to each and every organization scheduled to appear in the column of march Friday evening."

One citizen from each participating organization in the parade line, will be chosen to the official staff of aids to Chief Marshal Maj. Colby T. Kiltredge. A newly-organized fraternal organization with a small but patriotic membership of 16—the Joan of Arc Cadets—sent a representative to last night's rally and filled out the enrollment blank. The commander of the new organization is First Lieut. Wilfred Arpin, who is very enthusiastic over the coming parade and the participation of the new Joan of Arc society of youthful cadets. Lieut. Arpin is to start a membership campaign to increase the organization's membership right away.

James J. McManmon was nominated and chosen as an aide on the staff of the chief marshal to represent the divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The committee has decided that while the school children of the city will be admitted to the Memorial Auditorium before the holding of the patriotic and military ceremonies outside the building, the general public will not be allowed to enter until after the parade is concluded and all outdoor observance functions performed. Secretary Ralph R. Smith of Lowell Command, British Great War Veterans of America, Inc., announced this morning that all officers and members of the organization would parade in the "National Defense Day" column. All British and Canadian veterans and their friends have been invited to march with the command and all will be welcomed. The British veterans will meet at the Free church on Middlesex street, Friday night, at 6:30 o'clock. No uniforms will be worn.

Officers Implicated in Attempt to Invent Anti-Catholic Propaganda

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 10.—Members of the executive committee of the national conference of Catholic charities meeting here, called on Mayor Carver yesterday and charged that a police captain and two patrolmen whom they alleged are members of the Ku Klux Klan, were implicated in an attempt to invent anti-Catholic propaganda material at the Coliseum where the conference sessions are held.

DEPUTY BOY SCOUT MASTERS NAMED

Lowell council, Boy Scouts of America, met last evening in the council rooms in Kearney square. The election of deputy scout commissioners took place. Those selected for the coming year were as follows: Herman Brase, of the State Normal school, Cecil D. Chase and William J. Sabre. Mr. Brase will supervise the educational programs and activities of the scouts.

Charles W. Barton, formerly connected with the Lowell Boys' club, was named as field scout executive to assist Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen. John Fairburn was appointed as assistant scout master for Troop 1, Chelmsford. Mr. Fairburn has been prominently identified during the past seven years in Boy Scout and boys' church work in England.

The report of the council's delegate, Royal P. White, on the community chest, was read and accepted.

Scout Executive Mellen requests that all scouts report in uniform at 6 o'clock Friday evening at the Memorial Auditorium in preparation for the "Defense Day" exercises.

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—When Jackie Coogan, to whom so many fabulous things have happened, reviews the honors and ceremonies bestowed upon his Dutch-bobbed head, probably the most cherished in years to come will be the one that initiated him into the Navajo tribe of Indians. For weeks now, young Coogan has been an accredited "medicine man" in the lodge of New Mexico's aborigines.

For weeks he has been trying to twist his tongue glibly around his about call "boss." At the conclusion of the film the chief delivered himself of this sentimental verdict:

"Humph—good! Keep good boy. Make 'um little medicine man. Cull 'um Ba Naye Yuthle. Means 'Talk-Ing Eyes'."

For this narrative, as thus far related, I have relied upon the veracity of Jackie Coogan's publicity men, who are gentlemen as well as press agents. I'm sure they wouldn't deceive me, or you, as to one fact or detail of Coogan's induction into the Navajo brotherhood. True, that "Talk-Ing Eyes" sound a bit inspired. But, be that as it may—

The old chief's mandate went forth (I'm following my gentlemanly press agents closely again), and the maids and old women of the tribe got busy on appropriate costume for the adopted "medicine man." A belt with gorgeous buckles, fashioned of solid silver. Moccasins, with turquoise clasp; a green head dress, a scarlet tunic, trousers of the finest cured flexible leather, mauve leggings with buttons of silver.

Then there were appropriate and mystic rites during which the pale boy with the articulate orbs sat gravely in a circle of Navajo children and their withered elders—recipient of their gifts to needy young-tribal name, De Naye Yuthle, which, in pure Navajo, I am informed, means "Talk-Ing Eyes." Indians can find the appropriate name: Jackie has talked his way around the world with his eyes.

The ceremony took place at Albuquerque when the little picture star stopped there on his transcontinental trip gathering contributions for the Near East Relief Fund.

No white boy hitherto had been admitted to full membership in the patriotic Navajo clan, numbering 35,000. It was a matter of serious consideration by the old chief. What interested him most was that Jackie was bound for a distant land to bear good will and gifts to starving children, in behalf of legions of American youngsters.

Old Hash Kay Yashl, now past 90, was once a thorn in the side of Uncle Sam. He raised hob in New Mexico. He led the rebellion of 1863—the last full-fledged Indian outbreak in the region. He was a fighter. Now he is a philosopher, to whom a mission to miserable children engaged sympathy.

"Keep Good Boy"
Before making his decision on Coogan's eligibility, Hash Kay Yashl asked to see one of his pictures, then being shown at Gallop. Thither the chief was transported by Mike Kirk, Indian trader, whom natives there-

THEIR FIRST MEAL IN UNITED STATES

Lieutenants Arnold (left) and Smith, American round-the-world flyers, sit down to a meal of real ham and eggs at the cottage of Nelson Chase at Merepoint, Casco Bay, Me. It was their first meal in this country since their return. The fliers were forced to alight at the summer colony because of the heavy fog that made it impossible for them to continue on into Boston that day.

JOYS OF MOTHERHOOD

Often Prevented by Female Trouble

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brings Joy to Homes by Removing Cause of Trouble

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was working after I got married and the young lady who worked next to me asked me if I had any intentions of having a child. I told her I would be the happiest woman on earth if I could become a mother, but I always had terrible cramps, backaches and headaches. She then told me of a woman she knows who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the same troubles and it helped her greatly. I took about a half bottle and found that the following month I did not suffer any pain, so I kept on taking it. I have a wonderful baby boy six months old and he is as strong and fat as any one could wish a baby to be. I still take the Vegetable Compound regularly because I have looked fine all the time and felt fine and my mother told me that was the reason. I will be glad to have you publish my testimonial with my name and address."—Mrs. EDWARD WERBECK, 1224 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Free From Old Trouble
Auburn, Me.—"I suffered with inward weakness for ten years and had doctored all this long time but never got any help. One day I saw my sister and she told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I went and got me a bottle of it. I took two bottles and a half and I was just as free from my old troubles as I could be. I had only one child and I was afraid that I could never have any more, for I had been told that I never could have a living child for I was not strong enough to carry one. But they were mistaken and I had a nice baby boy and now I have five children. I can't praise your medicine enough. My youngest sister has taken it, too, and praises it."—Mrs. G. L. WISWELL, 43 Mechanics Row, Auburn, Maine.

These cases are similar to many others reported to us. It is well for women to carefully consider such statements and to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. It may bring great joy to your home.

Over 100,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

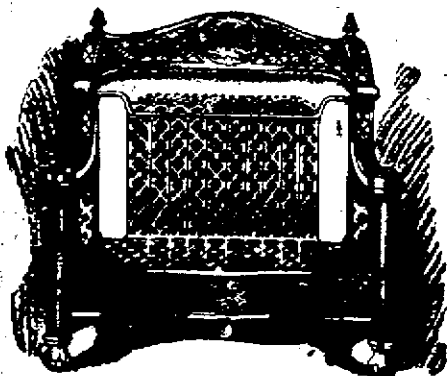

98 per cent of these replies are "Yes."

That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This goes to prove that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure-all—can and does do good work. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a medicine for women. For sale by druggists everywhere.

steps of which they had never before heard, as well as of their high honor. And not least of the day's dramatic happenings, I am told, was the meeting of the chieftain and Dan Dubois, who, in '63, was on the trail of Hash Kay Yashl even as the latter was on the heels of the intrepid scout. Now they clasped hands in amity—while Jackie struggled excitedly into his scarlet tunic and silver-buttoned leggings.

"Whatever the ceremonial may have meant to Jackie," vouch his honest publicists, "to the Indians this was no game, nor any press agent's ruse fulfilled."

ell man, and Sumner H. Smith of Lincoln, who seeks re-election. The city vote was: Campbell, 511; Bailey, 1497; Smith, 255.

Although only one or two of the 50 cities and towns in the sixth council district have been heard from, Mr. Campbell this noon conceded Mr. Smith's nomination and mailed to him a letter of congratulation.

The primaries brought a distinct overturn in the 14th representative district, where Rep. Owen E. Brennan failed to place. Rep. Charles H. Slowey was high man in the district with 1751 votes, with Patrick Nestor nosing out Rep. Brennan for second place by 57 votes. Councilor Eugene A. Fitzgerald was fourth.

Councilor Frederick A. Sadler of ward 4 met a tartar in Charles E. Donahue in the 16th representative district where the latter walked off with the nomination with many votes to spare. The totals were: Donahue, 1092; Sadler, 935.

In the 15th representative district, the present trio of legislators, Henry Achin, Jr., Victor F. Jewett and Fred O. Lewis, found easy sailing and landed high and dry. Cornelius J. O'Neill, running on stickers on the democratic ticket, polled 31 votes and thereby gained a nomination.

The fight for the republican nominations for county commissioner developed considerable interest and found Alfred J. Cutting and Walter C. Wardwell, the present incumbents, running strong in Lowell. They piled up substantial leads over A. L. Wardwell and James Andrew, their two opponents.

The duplication of the Wardwell name was expected to cause some confusion, but on the whole the voters discriminated well.

Senator William A. O'Hearn of North Adams for lieutenant governor, met with favor in Lowell in the only major contest on the democratic ticket, although John J. Cummings was the nominee.

The Lowell vote was counted slowly and it was not until 4 o'clock this morning that the last precinct was tabulated at city hall. This was precinct 1 of ward 6, which has come to be looked upon as an incredible larder.

About 50 per cent of the registered vote went to the polls.

The ballots were large and not easy to count because of three folds, but the ward 6 precinct was a full two hours later than any other in turning in its record.

Because of last night's heavy rain the downtown crowd was reduced to a mere handful.

Stuffing Animals in Spare Time Stuffs Her Pocketbook

MRS. GUY HADLEY AND SOME OF HER MOUNTED SPECIMENS

BY N.H.A. SERVICE
COUDERAY, Wis., Sept. 10.—"I had too much spare time on my hands," That, explains Mrs. Guy Hadley, north woods farm woman, is why she learned taxidermy.

And although she has never been inside a taxidermist's shop in her life and has never seen a mounter at work, Mrs. Hadley mounts every kind of north woods animal for the most fastidious of buyers. Not many farm women are bothered about what to do with their spare time, for they haven't any. Mrs. Hadley, one of a family of 14 children, came of industrious stock. When she married, she left Council Bluffs, Ia., for her husband's newly purchased farm near Coudersay. There she or-

Gas On Stomach Makes People Nervous

Mrs. Cook Nervous 12 Years Due to Gas

"For 12 years I suffered from gas on the stomach and was nervous and short of breath. Adlerika (intestinal antiseptic) has done me more good than anything." (Signed) Lena Cook.

Intestinal Antiseptic

There is now offered to the public a liquid preparation having the DOU- BLE action of an intestinal antiseptic and a complete system cleanser. This preparation, known as Adlerika, acts as follows:

It tends to eliminate or destroy harmful germs and colon bacilli in the intestinal canal, thus guarding against appendicitis and other diseases having their start here.

It cleans out BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes foul matter which poisons the system for months. It brings out all gases, thus immediately relieving pressure on the heart. It is astonishing the great amount of poisonous matter Adlerika draws from the intestinal canal—matter you never thought was in your system. Try it right after a natural movement and notice how much MORE food matter it brings out which was poisoning you. In slight disorders, such as occasional constipation, sour stomach, gas on the stomach or sick headache, gas expunged Adlerika ALWAYS brings relief. A ganized her work so well that time dragged heavily on her hands.

Out of Ordinary

Her brother, a photographer in Omaha, Neb., suggested that she take a correspondence course in some business that would be "out of the ordinary."

In the woods country, with deer everywhere, she found that farmers and loggers could not afford to save their antlers and deer heads because of the high price of sending them away for mounting.

A few months studying and Mrs. Hadley was mounting deer head for the community and then for visiting hunters in deer season.

"They can't pay much up here, so I do every deer for $10, regardless of size," she says.

Prodigious Worker

A most industrious woman. Her home is carefully kept. She milks eight cows twice daily, tends chickens and this season picked enough blueberries on her farm to beset a carpet loom, at which she proposes to occupy herself during the season of no hunting.

A new sawing machine has been added to her home from the local sawmill. A white topaz pendant which she wears was made from a stone found on the farm and cut and set with money she earned. An agate ring is of like origin.

"This summer fox she made herself from a red fox. Her mounted Wisconsin badger, pheasant, herring gull, porcupine and birds of all kinds—even a mounting of a house cat—would credit a long experienced taxidermist.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Manager Peterson of the Merrimack Square theatre, announces a triple-act program for the week-end beginning tomorrow afternoon. The chief attractions will be William Farnum, the virtuoso and popular star, in "The Man Who Fights Alone," Jane Novak, well known as William S. Hart's leading lady, in "The Lullaby," and Ed Rogers in "Two Wagons—Both Covered," a clever satire on "The Covered Wagon."

"The Man Who Fights Alone" is from the story "The Miracle of Ilate." It has been heard a lot about the miracles that have been performed by love, but sometimes the terrific emotional power of hate can do things even more startling.

Farnum has the role of a two-faced engineer who wins the love of a beautiful girl who also has been seduced by his best friend. Ill health makes it necessary for him to form a partnership with his friend who is an honorable man in every respect. As day after day he sees his wife and his other's company, suspicion and bitterness creep into his heart and here comes a time when his mind is so warped that he resolves upon a desperate course of action. How his little daughter saves him from the consequences of his own folly and how he is made to see his jealousy to be without foundation, forming a mighty climax which will send the red blood tingling and coursing through your veins.

Motherlove is the theme of "The Lullaby" which is the story of Jane Novak, probably more than any other star of the screen, is suited to the role as she portrays in this unusually vivid tale written by Edith Ducey and adapted to the screen by Hone Loring and Louis Lighton.

"Two Wagons—Both Covered," presents Will Rogers, the popular comedian, in one of the best productions of his career. It is an amusing satire on "The Covered Wagon" and can't fail to bring a laugh. The International News will complete the bill.

The management announces for the entire week of Sept. 14 Rudolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire."

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A bill that is swift moving from its opening is the one of the present week at the R. F. Keith theatre. Not an act in the line-up but that spends along wonderfully well. Take Klein Bros. for instance. They are talkers who confine themselves to the whole topic, but who range over the whole world, and they move from one place to another in a jiffy. There are Stanford & Mlle. Louise, dancers mostly. For 15 minutes they range about in surprising fashion. And Rob Murphy, the good-natured man from Oklahoma, lets an opportunity slide, by without an effort to have fun. Charles Horn & Co. in "The Automobile Broker" have a bright little comedy on a timely theme, and Louis London, the singer of character songs, offers a novelty and does it in a good manner. The bill is opened with Ponzi's "Monkeys," "Borrowed Husbands" is the week's motion picture feature.

RIALTO THEATRE

If ever a motion picture created any talk in Lowell, it is "The White Sin," which is now playing to enthusiastic and noisy audiences at Loew's Rialto. If you are afraid of coming to the face with the problems of American youth, do not go to see "The White Sin," for it is essentially a picture of modern young people. There are millions of girls all over the United States who are confronting the difficulties that Madge Bellamy does as Yvette, now, restless under the restraint of age, forced to play along in the dust when it would be flying. What happens when one girl does break away, of broken wings, that take weary years to heal—"The White Sin" tells the age-old story sympathetically and appealingly on the screen. "The White Sin" will be shown the remainder of the week. Buddy Roosevelt, a new screen star is also on the bill in "Rough Riders," a dramatic western story.

longer treatment, however, is necessary in cases of obstinate constipation and long standing stomach trouble, preferably under direction of your physician.

Reports from Physicians

"I have found nothing in my 50 years' practice to equal Adlerika." (Signed) Dr. James Weaver.

"I congratulate you on the good effect from Adlerika since I prescribed it." (Signed) Dr. L. Langlois.

"I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose." (Signed) Dr. F. M. P. (Name withheld by request).

"Adlerika is the best in my entire 27 years' experience." (Signed) Dr. G. B. B.

"I cannot describe awful IMPURITIES eliminated from my system (by Adlerika). Feel better than for 20 years." (Signed) J. B. Puckett.

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its quick, pleasant and COMPLETE action. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

We Ask Men

To protect their hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I speak for all women when I say that we want men to keep their looks. And above all, their hair.

The women do that. You would never forgive us if we did not. We beg you to follow our example.

My whole career on the stage has depended largely on my hair. So many years ago I went to France and secured the best hair helps she knew. And I have kept up with every new discovery.

The result is my hair as you see it. It is thick and lustrous, finer far than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Now countless women who use what I use are attaining like results.

I am offering to women the best I have found, and men are also welcome. My Hair Youth combines the utmost that modern science knows. I am sure that no one knows anything for the hair which does what this combination does.

I apply it with an eye-dropper directly to the scalp. Applying tonics to the hair is ridiculous. The whole thing lies in the scalp in the roots, and there my Hair Youth goes.

It combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifles the hair roots. It tones and stimulates the scalp. Hair thrives on such a soil as flowers thrive by like methods.

I believe that my Hair Youth now combines the greatest hair helps in existence. I have never seen anything else which brought comparable results.

Now I have placed it in every drug store, on every toilet counter. All who desire may obtain it. The name is Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth. It will amaze and delight you. I authorize every dealer to return the price to anyone who claims the slightest disappointment.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago—Adv.

ADMITTING G.O.P. DEFEAT

President Coolidge has certainly a hard time of it in keeping his ardent supporters from "spilling the beans," so to speak. Only a couple of weeks ago General Dawes cut loose on the Klein business in Maine, contrary to the policy adopted by Manager Butler, and the president himself, but Dawes only mildly chided the man and then patted it on the back for its high ideals and desire for rigid enforcement of the law.

But now comes Col. Harvey in the Washington Post and figures it all out that Coolidge cannot get within 48 votes of the number necessary to elect, and then he raises the cry of "Coolidge or chaos and chaos spells calamity."

Harvey was always a good deal of a calamity shouter; but in the present instance his performance is quite as ridiculous as some of his diplomatic breaks while serving as ambassador in London. He admits that the republican party is so divided, that with the La Follette defection, the republican candidate cannot be elected; and he, therefore, howls "Calamity!"

But hold on, Colonel. We admit your contention as to the republican split; but the democratic party is united under Mr. Davis and it can save the country from the chaos you predict. Moreover, the interests of the country demand the termination of the republican administration which brought only business failures and general industrial depression. The interests of the country will best be served by the election of John W. Davis and that will avert alike a continuation of republican mismanagement and the advent of chaos anticipated by Colonel Harvey.

CALL FOR DEFENSE DAY

Young man, if ten or twenty years hence, you are asked where you were on National Defense Day in 1924, what will be your answer?

Will you have your record card to show that you responded to the mobilization call for parade as a proof of your loyalty and your readiness for service. In enlisting at the government's call for a few hours, you are doing something that will redound to your credit not only at present but in future years. Therefore, go to the headquarters on Kearney square and give your name for assignment in the particular parade unit with which you will march. There is no liability attached, but there is a question of duty involved. The government has issued a call to test the readiness of the civilians to respond, and the answer is awaited. Will it be such as to cheer the men in charge and the government's officials, or will it be a cold and bitter disappointment? Lowell in every emergency in which the government needed defenders, has done her full duty. She is not likely to flunk in a matter of this kind. We have greater faith in the patriotism of her young men than to believe such a thing possible. We know the veterans will turn out in full numbers to shame such of the young men as prove to be slackers.

EPIDEMIC OF HOMICIDES

As a result of the frequent demands upon the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for the payment of insurance policies in cases of homicide, that company in line with its usual enterprise, has undertaken an investigation of the cases on which it had to pay out $721,000 in the course of the past year.

The total claims numbered 146, but it was able to secure reliable data only in 146 cases. Of this number, 32 were so-called justifiable homicides or cases in which death resulted from self-defense or the act of an officer in the line of his duty. Of the remaining 114 cases, there were 59 indictments, or in 60.5 per cent. of the total. Of the remaining 55, it was found that one-third of the assailants were still at large, in 22 cases they committed suicide and in 8 the evidence was insufficient to warrant indictments.

But what resulted from the 60 indictments? In eleven cases there was no trial. In 58 trials a verdict of "not guilty" was given in 16 cases, and one resulted in a mistrial. Of the 41 in which convictions were secured, 35 of the culprits are serving time with appeals pending in six cases; and of the remaining six, three are held for new trials, one was paroled, one fined and one executed. Thus of the 114 unjustified homicides, only one execution followed.

With such failure to apply the penalties of the law in unjustified cases of manslaughter or murder, is it any wonder that such crimes are so prevalent? Is it not a national disgrace that in the United States in recent years there are annually 3000 homicides or a rate, proportioned to our population, 17 times as great as that of England and Wales. Our homicide toll per 100,000 of population is nearly six times as great as that of Canada; and the 225 such crimes in Chicago alone in 1922 exceeded the total for England and Wales, which was 202.

With the logic of such facts, the Metropolitan Life Insurance company points out the necessity of early revision of the methods adopted by prosecuting attorneys in dealing with such cases. In fine, there is the most glaring laxity in handling these cases; and the delay in reaching definite action permits cases of homicide to be almost forgotten and allows pleas for leniency to defeat the ends of justice to an extent that causes capital punishment to be a mere mockery which is but rarely applied even where the guilt is unquestioned.

It remains for the American Bar association and the judiciary in conjunction with our state legislatures to devise ways and means for the prompt trial of homicide cases with a view to providing some deterrent from the commission of murder and manslaughter now so alarmingly frequent that the lives of peaceful and law-abiding citizens are not secure against the enmity of the gunmen, the bandits, the kidnapers and blackhand vandals.

We venture to say that many of the homicides committed throughout the country result directly from the ease with which people can secure licenses to carry revolvers. A man who carries around a revolver in his pocket is a veritable menace to society for the reason that on the least provocation he snaps out the gun and hurls away at his real or fancied enemy. Formerly it was the custom when men met, they were engaged in a fist fight; but in recent years the weapons used are daggers and revolvers and as a result, we lead the world in the number of homicides.

THE MAINE ELECTION

Undoubtedly the Maine election will bring cheer to republican leaders and particularly to President Coolidge; and

"Listen, Smith," said the producer to the elderly actor who was "reading." "I'm willing to give you a part—that is, if you think you can do the part." "I can do the part," said the actor. "I can do the part," said the actor. "I can do the part," said the actor.

Janet's Long Suit

The children of the Pittman family were, according to their respective ages, all first in something at school. Tommy was first in the class. Janet was first in arithmetic, geometry in sports, and so on. Janet, alone, remained silent. "Well, Janet, how about you?" her uncle asked. "I am, Janet. I am first out of the building when the bell rings."

Pleased to Meet Her

A minister, as an illustration of extreme embarrassment, tells of a strange incident which brought his wife and young bride to the church parsonage for matrimonial purposes. "According to my usual custom," says the minister, "I tried to get the bride and groom to the church in a certain way. I was very pleased to meet her."

Wisdom Has Wings

A business man was invited to spend a day shooting. Whatever his powers and abilities in business, his gun work was not remarkable for its accuracy. To the great disgust of the gamekeeper in attendance, whose lip was generally curled up at the sight of the bird, he said: "Dear me," said the sportsman, at last, "the birds seem exceptionally strong on the wing this year." "Not at all," said the gamekeeper, "they are just the same birds about a dozen times."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The club season is now with us once again and clubmen are coming out most enthusiastically for bigger and better seasons than the last. Program committees are doing all in their power to present the best in the line of speakers and entertainers and promise a most fruitful year.

The Business and Professional Women who met last evening in the first business session of the fall-winter season, voiced their appreciation of bigger and better things by offering one of the most entertaining programs put on locally for a long time. Lewis MacBryne, the after-dinner speaker, voiced his appreciation of the business women in a most entertaining and humorous manner.

Middlesex Women club members are looking forward to the opening of their fall-winter activities, which, by the way, are to be of a most interesting nature. Mrs. Claude Gilson, entertaining speaker who last season kept the members up to the minute in current events is always a welcome visitor locally and there is a possibility of securing her services this year.

Lowell merchants may have an opportunity within a few days to entertain three hundred business men, members of the Harrisburg chamber of commerce, who will be in Boston next week Thursday. Traveling a thousand miles in four days, visiting a dozen cities, visiting the municipal group and the new bridge at Springfield, the Harrisburg delegates of merchandise representatives expect to return to their home city equipped with many new ideas that will help progressive Harrisburg in the future.

The merchants are traveling in light-colored Pullman cars. "Just as everything," just like the Bay State "coast-to-coast" tour that left Boston, bound for Montreal and the far west via Lowell, early Monday evening. The Boston chamber of commerce is making arrangements to show real New England hospitality to the visitors from Pennsylvania. Other Bay State cities to be visited are Worcester, Springfield, Attleboro, Brockton and Cambridge. It might be possible to have the visitors move out to Lowell for a half-day and look over the textile mills. The Pennsylvanians have many textile mills, but not many that turn out the nation's finest cloths.

Lowell is being charged by out-of-state automobilists with having one of the poorest arteries for through traffic in New England. The road which they term this is none other than the much abused Pawtucket boulevard which, in the words of a witty automobilist, "has an abrasion for every square foot of its surface." It is a reflection on the city that such a condition exists as it surely does, for Pawtucket boulevard from Varnum avenue to the city line is certainly in very poor condition.

Work on the reconstruction of the new Knights of Columbus building in Dutton street has begun. I notice, Grand Knight Groves, who retires from office next month, informs me that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Since the former site was destroyed by fire, the Knights have occupied quarters in the Phoenix building in Prescott street, and the old Eagles' rooms in Central street. They are in the latter location at present.

England has barred all advertising from being sent out by radio. That is a good idea and the exclusion might be extended to matters that are offensive to any particular class.

STANLEY JAMES PLAYERS ARRIVE

All members of the Stanley James Players who will open the stock season at the Lowell Opera House Monday, have arrived in the city and begun rehearsals of "Just Married," which will be the first play presented.

The opening of the new dramatic stock season at the Lowell Opera House is an event that has a wide appeal. The coming season promises to be the most successful one that Lowell has ever had. This will be due to the unusual gathering of clever actors and actresses that have been engaged.

No expense has been spared to secure real artists, artists who are able to give exact interpretations of their various roles. In a word, the management feel they have secured the best acting company that has ever filled a stock engagement in this city.

The opening play, "Just Married," is one of New York's latest hits, and comes direct from Broadway to Lowell. Other plays to be presented soon will include "The Alarm Clock," "Irene," "The Lady in Love," "With Love," "The Crooked Square," "So This is London," and our big favorite, "Tommy Martello, female impersonator, is here the second week in 'The Fading Widow'."

The fact that the stock company is to appear at the Opera House has been a pronounced factor in the lively interest shown, because this theatre has been renovated, remodeled and newly decorated, with many new features that will greatly add to the comfort of the patrons, and make an ideal theatre for stock productions.

The theatre is open daily from 10 a. m. till 3 p. m., where tickets may be secured, or reservations made for the opening, or any performance during the week. Phone 7460 or 7461.

General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, who has been mobilizing his forces since Sunday, is expected to open an attack on Shanghai tomorrow against the Wu Pei-Fu Peking forces, thus creating a new battle line between Peking and Nanking, principal city of Manchuria, according to a report received at Lungwha today from a reliable source.

New Offensive

PEKING, Sept. 10 (by the Associated Press).—General Wu Pei-Fu has opened a new offensive against General Lu Yung-shang, the governor of Chekiang, who is busily engaged holding back the army of Kiangsu, which has been attacking his troops west of Shanghai.

According to advices reaching Peking, General Sun Chuan-fang, who has been holding Paochow in Fukien province for Wu, has arrived at Chuchow in the south of Chekiang with a strong force of Kiangsu troops. His opponent, General Pang, with a division of the Chekiang army, is without much hope of receiving reinforcements.

ONE WORD

One word is too often profaned
For me to profane it.
One feeling too falsely disdain'd
For thee to disdain it.
One hope is too like despair
For prudence to smother.
And pity from their more dear
Than that from another.

I can give not what men call love,
But with thou accept not
The worship the heart lifts above
And the heavens reject not.
The desire of the moth for the star,
Of the night for the morrow,
The devotion to something afar
From the sphere of our sorrow.

Canning

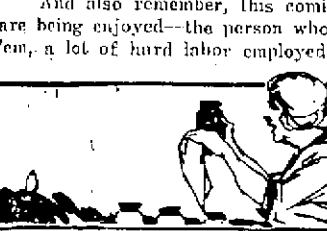

Now comes an odor, a wonderful odor, that tickles your palate to death. It floats o'er the breezes and, oh, how it pleases! What pleasure to draw in each breath.

The call's from the kitchen; your appetite's itching. You know what is stored on the shelf. The neighborhood smells it and cooking compels it to make you desire it yourself.

The fresh touch of peaches and plums fairly screeches, and pineapple, too, fills the air. There's essence of cherries and all sorts of berries. What wonderful blending is there.

A worthy old metal—that big boiling kettle that beats to the proper degree. Just think what it's doing; what pleasure it's brewing from fruit stuffs for you and for me.

And also remember, this coming December, when canned things are being enjoyed—the person who cooked 'em, and ne'er overlooked 'em, a lot of hard labor employed.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A very pleasant surprise in the form of a miscellaneous shower was held recently in the home of Miss Evelyn Craven, 515 Pinecliff street, in honor of Miss Craven's approaching marriage to Mr. Alton Russell of North Chelmsford. About 50 friends of the bride-to-be were present and showered her with many beautiful gifts. A musical program was rendered after which refreshments were served. Miss Alice Stanley and Miss Christine Motherman were in charge of the affair. Miss Craven was tendered another shower in Tyngsboro a few weeks ago.

Simple Two-Tube Set Gets Distance

HOOK-UP DIAGRAM OF SMALL DISTANCE GETTER

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
N.E.A. Service Radio Editor

Alleged long distance records of reception with only one tube, such as Fleming's from Chicago to Poldhu, England, may be only radio freaks, but there are two-tube circuits that actually prove consistent long distance gettings.

Such a circuit is the one to be described today. It is the circuit used by a fan in Havana, Cuba, who has been listening in on the high-powered broadcasting stations in this country with ease, despite the heavy static prevailing most of the year in that area.

It is simply designed and easy to construct. Two honeycomb coils make the antenna inductance. The first tube is used as a stage of radio frequency amplification, and the second is the detector provided with a feed-back arrangement to the antenna.

The aerial should be about 65 feet long and about 35 feet high for best reception with the honeycomb coils provided. However, a total length of 160 feet for antenna and lead-in is the essential to remember.

The parts for this set are:

1. one 35-turn honeycomb coil.
2. one 75-turn honeycomb coil.
3. one .0005 variable condenser.
4. one .001 variable condenser.
5. one grid leak, varying from 15 to 3 megohms, and condenser, .00025 mfd.
6. one 5 to 15-plate vernier variable condenser.
7. one radio frequency transformer.
8. one .0022 mfd. by-pass condenser.
9. one grid leak, varying from 15 to 3 megohms, and condenser, .00025 mfd.

Thus wire for connections.

The tubes for this set are both of the 1V201-A, or the C301-A type. For these the B battery has a voltage of 45 volts.

SET CLAIMS INCREASE IN SELECTIVITY

BY N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Two new ideas in radio manufacture and a departure in design feature the latest form of receiver that is being prepared for the market.

It is called the "synchrophone" receiver and is a five-tube radio frequency circuit brought out by A. H. Grebe and Company of Richmond Hill, L. I.

The features that it is contended make this set unique and an interesting study are:

- 1.—Radio inductances, in the form of "bifurcated coils," that are designed so as to eliminate their own electro-magnetic fields and avoid local interference.
- 2.—Variable condensers with peculiarly shaped plates that permit of an even selectivity in tuning and accurate calibration of stations.
- 3.—The departure in design consists of setting the condensers vertically, with dials above, so that only a segment of each dial projects through the panel to be visible to the operator. A horizontal wheel projecting from the panel below operates the vernier arrangement of each condenser.
- 4.—Like Opera Glasses

The idea of the bifurcated coils is that of two similar solenoids wound in opposite directions, and parallel to each other, so that their magnetic fields neutralize each other. This precludes the possibility of picking up signals that are too powerful to be eliminated otherwise. Local stations, it is argued, may be tuned out with ease.

A maximum of selectivity, the manufacturers say, is thus obtained.

Even Control

The new type of condensers, according to their designer, allows accurate equalization of dial settings, due to even separation of stations along the dial, and permits of greater ease in calibrating the various frequencies covering the broadcasting range.

As a result of these changes, Alfred Grebe, manufacturer of this set, claims ease of control, greater selectivity, clarity, volume and greater distance for it.

Instead of controlling the volume

by a series of plugs, in the amplifying circuit Grebe has utilized a new variable input method of control, which gives six gradual variations and permits maintenance of the most desirable ratio of radio to audio amplification.

BRITISH AMATEURS JOIN PROTEST

(By N.E.A. Service)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—Amateurs of Great Britain are beginning an organized protest against the limitations of the government against amateur transmission.

The specific limitation to which they object is the ruling that amateur messages shall be transmitted only to stations in the British Isles that are actually taking part in the experiments conducted by the amateur transmitting.

The result is such strict enforcement has been placed on this provision, that amateurs find themselves unable to try long distance transmission on the low wavelengths accorded them. Trans-Atlantic transmission is practically out of the question, and exchange of messages even with French and other European operators is outside of their bounds.

Feeling has begun to run so high that there is serious talk of a concerted campaign which may bring about revocation of the objectionable ruling.

40 COURSES BY RADIO

The new college of the air organized by the Kansas State Agricultural college at Manhattan, Kas., will have 40 courses to broadcast this fall and winter. They will cover the fields of agriculture, engineering, home-making, business and general science.

BUGS

SIGNALS COME AND GO AT SAME TIME

By N. E. A. Service
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Five receiving sets and a transmitter have been worked successfully at the same time on board the same ship.

This remarkable achievement was accomplished recently in tests conducted on a U. S. battleship off the coast of Virginia. At this time communication was established with stations in San Francisco and San Diego, Calif., with the ship's transmitter and five receiving sets working at the same time.

Different wavelengths were used in transmission and in each, form of reception, although the same aerial did duty for both sending and receiving.

The instrument that made this achievement possible was a specially constructed electron tube transmitter of 10-kilowatt power, which emits a pure wave, and a recent invention that makes multiple reception possible on the same antenna.

WORLD'S BANKERS MAY HELP RADIO

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—European and American financiers are being attracted by radio.

More than a dozen bankers from this country and across the sea are expected to attend the first Radio World's fair to be held in New York, September 23 to 25, and from this visit begin establishing the new science on a permanent business basis.

According to one of these bankers, in this city, radio will soon be considered one of the most important public service utilities of all countries.

"I fully expect to see several of our biggest railroad, steamship, electric, coal and oil magnates take an active interest in the development of radio in all its branches during the coming year," he says.

"I am firmly convinced that radio will in the very near future, furnish cheaper light, heat and power as well as be the means of transcontinental and transoceanic communication at a cost even lower than our present rate of postage."

Radio investors and manufacturers, who are now handicapped in their work due to lack of capital, expect considerable financial help following the world's fair.

THE VOICE FROM KGO

Fans listening in on KGO, Oakland, Calif., know this man only as "H. M." when he signs off with these initials. He is Howard I. Milholland, studio director and chief announcer at that station.

GORD WILL HOLD RADIO TIPS

Good radio phones have a string attached to the end, where the tips are. This string has a definite use. Since the tips are to be used only as connections through the phone plug, there must be some way to hold the cord to the plug. The string is put there for that purpose.

Some plugs have a little hook to which the cord is tied, so that the individual cord to each tip hangs loosely and does not strain the tip. If there is no such hook, some way should be found by which the string may be tied.

It means longer life to the phone cord.

POWER BY RADIO

Two inventors of Southend, England, have been working on a means of transmitting power by radio. They have already succeeded in lighting an electric light, starting a motor and ringing a bell at some distance.

1. With the count of two strikes on the batsman, for some reason he steps out of his box. The pitcher seeking to take advantage of this act, hurriedly delivers the ball to his catcher. It is over the plate at the proper height. Should the batter be declared out?—H. J. P.
2. A pitcher says that a batter can be balked with no men on the bases and go to first. B says a balk is impossible without runners on, and never in any way affects the status of the batter. Who is right?—J. E.
3. A ball is hit over the fence. It goes over fair, but curves foul before going out of sight of the umpire. Is it fair or foul ball?—Dr. J. A. G.
4. There is a runner on first base. He starts to steal second. The batter hits the ball between first and second, and as the base umpire runs toward second, expecting a play at that base, the ball hits his foot. Runner on first reaches second and batsman first in safety. What is the correct ruling?—J. A. I.

Answers.
1. Batsman usually has a good reason for getting out of the box. Umpire should always call time when he does so. Quick delivery by pitcher is unsportsmanlike and dangerous. Umpire should have considered the ball dead and made no ruling.
2. B is right. There must be runners on for pitcher to make a balk. Calling of a balk in no way affects status of batter.
3. It is a foul ball. Umpire must watch the ball until it passes from his sight and render ruling in accordance with where it is at such a time.
4. If umpire is hit by batted ball before play is made on it, batsman is entitled to first. Runner on first must advance to second to make room for batsman.

QUESTIONS.
1. There are runners on second and third. Batsman doubles, scoring both men. Team in field discovers batter, who made two-base hit, was an improper batsman. An appeal is made to the umpire before a ball is pitched. What is the proper ruling? A says the runs count. B claims otherwise.—O. F. D.
2. Manager of team at bat sends left-handed pinch-hitter. Manager of team in field substitutes a southpaw pitcher. Manager of team at bat then sends in a right-handed pinch-hitter for the left-handed batter previously announced as the pinch-hitter. Manager of team in field wants to take out his southpaw pitcher. Game ends in argument. What is the proper ruling in such a situation?—P. R. R.

3. Manager sends in a pinch-hitter to bat for the pitcher. The pinch-hitter happened to be a catcher, and at the start of the next inning the manager decided to keep him in the game as catcher to handle the new pitcher. How do the shifted players bat?—D. S. A.

ANSWERS.
1. Since the mistake was discovered before a ball was pitched to the succeeding batsman, umpire should declare the proper batsman out. No runs can score on any act of an improper batsman. Runners should be sent back to their original bases. B is correct.
2. It is always possible to change pinch-hitters as often as desired. The announcing of a pinch-hitter, and then the using of some player in his place, merely removes him from the game. When a pinch-hitter is sent in, he must pitch until one batter reaches first or is retired.
3. Catcher, who acted as pinch-batter for pitcher, and then is continued in the game, must continue to bat in pitcher's place. New pitcher bats in the catcher's place.

The Lowell State Normal school officially opened the fall term this morning. The school has the largest number of students in its history, 180 juniors and 180 students who will continue their studies from where they were interrupted by the summer vacation season last June.

The students, both old and new, gathered in the school assembly hall at 9 o'clock this morning and were welcomed by the faculty. Miss Ines Field Damon led the community singing and Clarence M. Weed, principal of the school, addressed the gathering. Mr. Weed welcomed the girls in the name of the school faculty.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Owing to the inclement weather last evening the scheduled meeting of the St. Peter's Cadets football squad was postponed until this evening at 7.50. The meeting will be held tonight, rain or shine. All former-members of the team as well as those young men who desire to try for this year's team are requested to be on hand at the St.

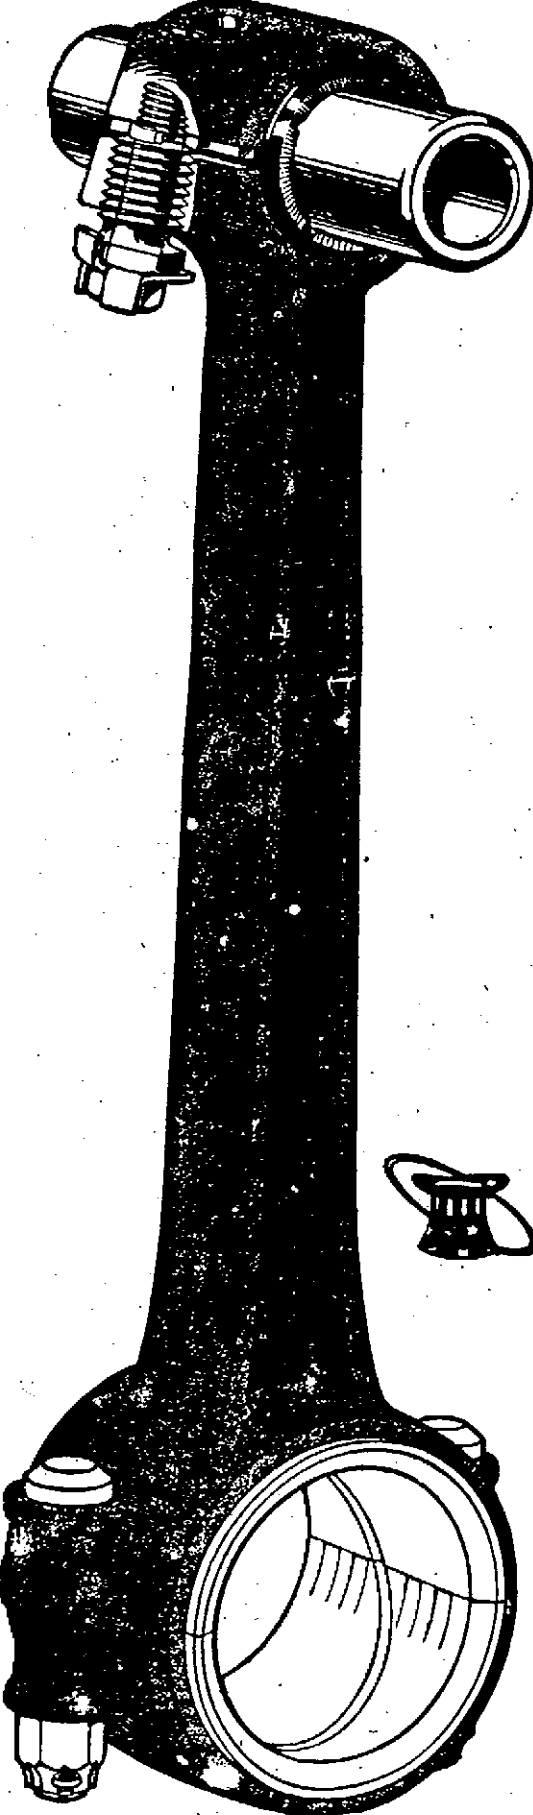

Peter's school hall tonight at 7.50. In addition to plans being made for the coming grid season, the election of captain, manager, and coach will take place. All the veterans of the team have signified their intention of being on hand for this year's team and those in charge feel certain that St. Peter's Cadets will have an eleven second to none, in their class.

Rickenbacker

A CAR WORTHY OF ITS NAME

Another Rickenbacker Invention

At Last—An Adjustable Wrist-pin Bearing!
—A Cure for "Pistonpinitis"

This is the 8th Fundamental! Improvement first introduced in a motor car by Rickenbacker engineers.

For the first time in the history of this industry it is now possible to adjust that bearing which sustains the greatest grief of all bearings in a motor.

Heretofore it was necessary in all motors, to replace the bushings when they became ever so slightly worn.

Because the first shock of power impulses—and every shock—comes on the wrist-pin bearing—the bearing in upper end of connecting rod and piston.

This must be the closest fitting—most accurately made—bearing in the entire car.

Therefore one-thousandth of an inch wear renders it noisy—and once "play" develops, it continues to increase rapidly.

For 25 years—since there was a motor car—engineers have dreamed of an adjustable bushing for this point.

Rickenbacker engineers produced and patented this one.

Just think! Instead of "taking down" the motor and replacing bushing with new—scrapping—lapping—fitting—a job that called for an expert mechanic and special appliances, and even then ran into a full day's time—

Any garage man—or any owner, who likes to work with his car—can easily adjust all six wrist-pin bearings in his Rickenbacker motor in 2½ hours.

And you can adjust each bearing to one quarter thousandth of an inch accuracy.

There is the great value of this Rickenbacker adjustable bushing—it will not only save much time and great expense,—but—

Being so simple to do, it will be done before a serious condition develops. So your motor will be kept at "concert pitch" all the time.

It is one of nine Fundamental improvements—nine examples of advanced engineering—you first saw or heard of in a Rickenbacker Six. In order of their advent these nine are:—

- 1—Tandem Fly Wheels
- 2—"Cradle" Springs
- 3—Steel Disc Wheels
- 4—Ball Bearing Steering
- 5—Air Cleaner
- 6—"Double Depth" Frame
- 7—4-Wheel Brakes
- 8—Adjustable Piston-pin Bearing
- 9—Fuel and Oil Rectifier

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 20

Of course, it was very hot in the African jungle and the explorers didn't need any blankets to sleep under. Jack started to pile up a nice bed of leaves for a bed when the captain shouted, "Come on, young fellow, let's you and I gather some fire wood so we can have a fine big blaze."

"Sure thing," replied Jack. And very shortly he and the captain were piling up bundles of broken tree limbs. Jack laughed when his pet monkey ran ahead of him and picked up smaller limbs and added them to the piles the little adventurer was making. The little animal wanted to help, too.

Flip was apparently tired from working his way through the jungle. He slunk down on the ground near where the camp fire was being built and dozed to sleep. Jack, in the meantime, walked farther and farther away from the rest of the men, in his search for firewood. (Continued.)

"HERE, BOYS!" CALLED MISTER RINGTAIL COON that evening. "We can't eat anything at all."

"What?" cried the coon gentleman. "Not tonight, either? Why, you'll be starved. You'll get as thin as bean-poles."

He was a little bit, I mean a good bit, near-sighted, or he would have noticed they were getting as fat as butter-balls.

About three days after that two neat little boxes came from "Nancy, Nick & Company's" shop. They were all tied with string and looked too nice for anything.

"Here, boys!" cried Mister Ringtail Coon. "Come and try on your new suits. I'm sure you are going to look very handsome. I'm only sorry you are so thin."

Cobby looked at Corby, and Corby looked at Cobby. "All right, Uncle Ring," they called. "We're coming!"

But the coon boys had gotten so fat on the sweet-corn that the coats wouldn't go half way round. And the trousers simply wouldn't button up at all.

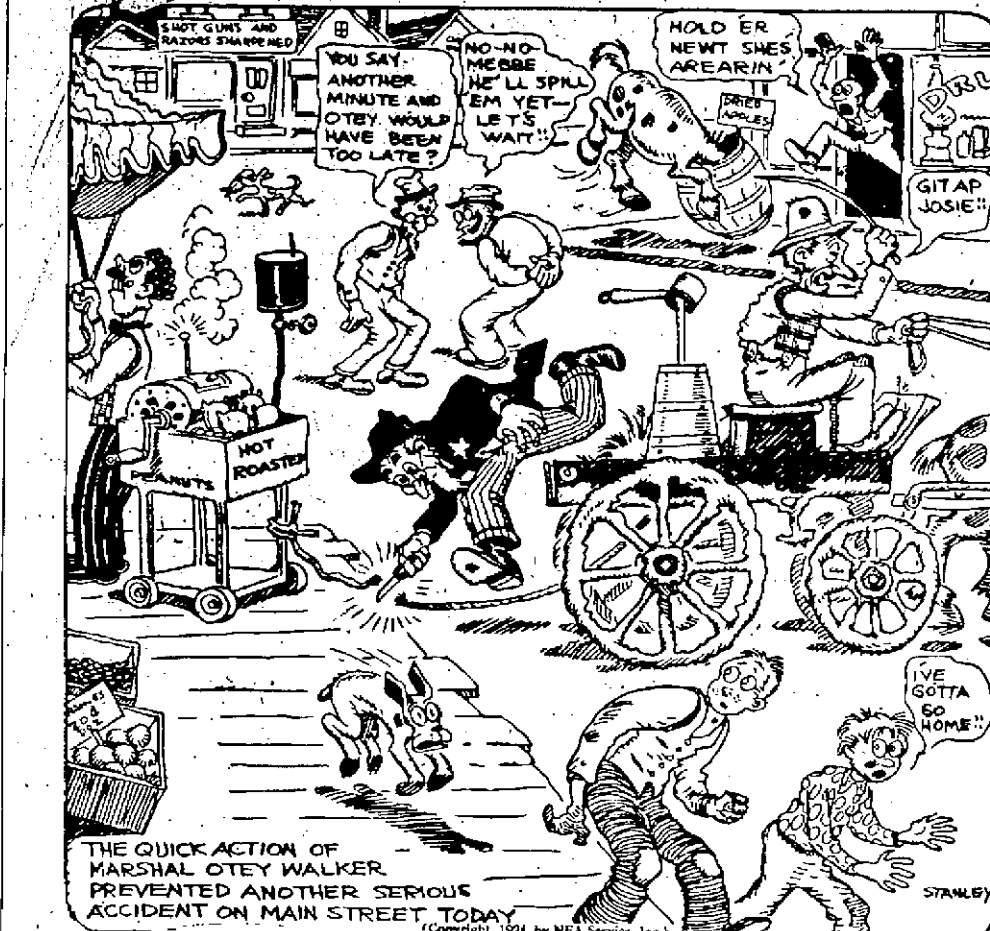

"Why, they are terrible!" exclaimed Mister Coon. "They don't fit at all. They are much too small."

"I know why," called down Tattle Tale Crow. "I've been watching, and your nephews have been stealing corn and that makes them fat."

"We're sorry, Uncle Ring," said Corby and Cobby when they saw how sorry their uncle looked. "We promise not to do it any more. And we'll be good boys and try to keep clean and everything."

Which they did. I'm glad to say. They soon got thin again, and their suits looked just fine.

And they always remembered to wash their ears, too.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Breakfast—Cooked wheat cereal with chopped dates, thin cream, liver and bacon, creamed potatoes, roasted rolled oats bread, corn muffins, coffee, milk.

Lunch—Baked bluefish, baked sweet potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, lettuce with Thousand Island dressing, chocolate bread pudding with whipped cream, milk, coffee.

Dinner—Baked bluefish, baked sweet potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, lettuce with Thousand Island dressing, chocolate bread pudding with whipped cream, milk, coffee.

Members of the family who are less than 6 years of age will not indulge in the liver, muffins or coffee suggested in the breakfast menu. Crisp bacon and the potatoes may be given to the 4-year-old child.

This luncheon was planned particularly for the children under school age when the older children enjoy their luncheon to school.

Serve the lettuce without the dressing to children under 5. And if you stuff your fish for baking, of course the juniors will be better off without the highly seasoned stuffing.

Broiled Meat Patty
Scrape two or three ounces of round steak with a knife. This leaves the fibers of the meat and gives you the clean meat pulp. Season slightly with salt and form in a small flat cake. Broil four minutes, turning often. The meat should be rare so the thickness of your patty will determine the length of time you broil it.

Chocolate Bread Pudding
One and one-half cups stale bread crumbs, without crust, 2 cups milk, 1 square Baker's chocolate, 4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg.

Combine milk and bread crumbs and let stand half an hour. Melt chocolate over hot water. Add to bread and milk with butter, sugar and salt. Beat egg well and stir into mixture. Turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake 50 minutes in a slow oven.

This is a simple nourishing pudding that is hearty enough to follow a light meal course for grownups and form the main dish for very small people. A very small "portion" of whipped cream should dress the pudding for those from 4 to 6 because the chocolate adds fat to the pudding.

The fish-hook cactus is a trustworthy compass of the desert, for no matter how hot the sun, it always points toward the south.

BIG MIX-UP IN BROCKTON

Returns in Bitter Republican
Representative Fight Not
In Until 9.15 Today

City Clerk Calls Force Out of Bed at 5.15 to Complete Count—Ride in Patrol

BROCKTON, Sept. 18.—A mix-up in the city's history occurred in Ward 3, which did not announce its final returns until 9.15 this morning. City Clerk, Albert Sullivan, was obliged to go to the polls personally and call his office forces out of bed at 5.15 in the morning, transporting them in the driving rain in the city patrol wagon to complete the count in the ninth Plymouth republican representative district.

In one of the bitterest fights ever staged, President B. A. Hastings of the common council defeated ex-Alderman Alton E. Anderson 392 to 314. Anderson may contest the election on the ground of alleged irregularities.

To Demand Recount
BROCKTON, Sept. 18.—Alton E. Anderson will demand a recount in the ninth representative district where he was beaten by 48 votes by B. A. Hastings in the republican primaries.

This district comprises Wards 3 and 4, and the city's delay and irregularities in the count of the Ward 3 vote forced City Clerk Sullivan to take over the ballots this morning.

ELKS WILL HAVE BAND IN PARADE

An enthusiastic special meeting of members of Lowell lodge, 87, B.P.O.E., was held in the new Elks home on Warren street, last evening. Excited Ruler James J. Donnelly presiding. The lodge voted as a unit to stand squarely behind Maj. Dana Palmer and his committee staff of workers, who are energetically promoting Lowell's observance of "National Defense day," Sept. 12.

Never since the patriotic demonstration in Lowell, Elks during the World war, have members shown more enthusiasm than was apparent last evening at the rally of the anti-fascist in the new club headquarters. Lowell may expect a turnout of possibly one thousand Elks in the street demonstration.

The international organization has engaged the services of the famous 138th Artillery band, which has been ordered to report at Elks home on Warren street at 8 p. m. sharp, on Friday.

From the rallying point, the Elks unit will march to its assigned station on the North common. All Elks will report at the home at 8 p. m. sharp, and the parade will start at 9 p. m. sharp. GIBSON WINS IN VERMONT

Republican Congressman
Scores Easy Victory in
Fight for Renomination

His Vote to Over-ride Pres.
Coolidge's Bonus Bill
Veto Leading Issue

MONTEPELIER, Vt., Sept. 18.—Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro, republican congressman from the second Vermont district, won a comparatively easy victory in his campaign for renomination in the state primaries yesterday.

He defeated John W. Gordon of Barre by a plurality of 3700 votes out of a total for the district of less than 19,000. He carried six of the seven counties.

The only other contests on either the republican or democratic tickets were for the republican nominations for governor and lieutenant governor. For the former place Franklin K. Billings, the present lieutenant governor, defeated Roland W. Stevens of White River Junction by a vote of almost 3 to 1.

The nomination for lieutenant governor went to State senator Walter K. Farnsworth, who won over State Senator J. Gregory Smith. Smith carried his own county, Franklin, but all of the others were in the Farnsworth column.

The vote of the state, with a few small towns missing, was:
For republican lieutenant-governor: Farnsworth 23,055; Smith 12,644.
For republican governor: Billings 28,288; Stevens 10,816.
The congressional vote was:
Gibson 11,134; Gordon 7578.

Congressman Gibson said in voting to override President Coolidge's veto of the soldiers' bonus bill had been used as a campaign argument against him. Other than this there were no issues raised having any bearing on the national campaign. Mr. Stevens in his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination, directed most of his attention to the matter of better roads and stricter law enforcement.

The vote was light in spite of the efforts of the candidates to roll up a good total. Less than 40,000 republicans voted in the primary yesterday, against a total republican vote in the elections two years ago of 49,181 and 65,259 in the last presidential election.

Storms disrupted wire communication with several small towns and among those from which no report was received was a small town, where resident Coolidge's birthplace, Plymouth.

SEN. COUZENS LEADS IN MICHIGAN

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press) Senator James Couzens today led for the first time in the race for the republican nomination for United States senator when 291 Wayne precincts placed him in front of Judge Arthur J. Tuttle. The vote, with 1891 of the state's 2,765 precincts reported, was: Couzens, 212,204; Tuttle 194,885; Smith 23,203; Tussing, 21,159.

Senator Couzens, predicting his election to the full term in the United States senate by at least 30,000 votes over Judge Tuttle, his nearest opponent, today expressed his gratification that "the unorganized Couzens movement has beaten the organized anti-Couzens movement."

The heart of a patient in Charing Cross hospital, London, continued to beat for four and one half hours after she had stopped breathing.

LIONS WILL HOLD UNION MEETING TONIGHT

Final arrangements have been completed by the local Lions club for their union meeting to be held this evening in Liberty hall, Lowell Memorial Auditorium.

The Lions clubs of Manchester, Nashua, Boston, Medford, Lynn and Haverhill will send official representatives to the meeting at which Melvin Jones, secretary general of the International Association of the Lions club, will be guest of honor. This will be the first trip to this part of the country and he comes on the special invitation of King Lion G. Forrest Martin, president of the Lowell club.

Dinner will be served promptly at 6.30 and will be followed by the meeting. Mr. Jones will be the principal speaker. About 70 visiting Lions and 50 Lowell Lions will attend the dinner and meeting.

Melvin Jones has been connected with the International Association of

MELVIN JONES

Lions Clubs since its inception in 1917, when he was instrumental in bringing together a group of clubs out of which the present organization has grown.

As a result of his activity he was elected secretary general of the association at its first convention, which established headquarters in Chicago. He was given charge of administrative affairs, and was made editor of the Lions Club Magazine, a monthly publication.

The organization work under his control has resulted in the association growing from 25 clubs to 550 in the past seven years. His work has compelled him to travel 40,000 to 50,000 miles each year, taking him to every part of the North American continent, and he is in consequence an authority on all subjects pertaining to civic and social clubs.

The three largest of the service clubs have their established headquarters in Chicago, and the Lions are fast becoming one of the leaders of the three.

Lions clubs select one man from every vocation, and cater to the young, active, red-blooded American business man. They emphasize in all their activities co-operation, fellowship and neighborliness.
